

COCKRELL'S NEDDERMAN CASE ISSUE

Prosecution Declares Its Purpose to Show Others Besides Former Chief in "Scheme" to Mule Gambling Agencies

Defense Contends That Action of Others 'Is Not Material Evidence Unless Shown as Orders of Present Defendant'

Practically the entire morning session of the trial of former Police Chief John F. Nedderman, charged with receiving a bribe, was consumed in arguments in Judge James G. Quinn's chambers over the admissibility of evidence by the prosecution of Chinese gambling houses, that he paid money for protection to Dave Cockrell, under indictment with Nedderman.

Objections to testimony by Peter J. Crosby, who conducted the defense, were interposed when this line of questioning was started with the Chinese witness. As a result, not only were questions were proposed to the witness, but also the clash between counsel came to a head. Then Judge Quinn dismissed the jury and retired to chambers to hear argument.

The argument was in progress when the noon recess was taken. It was resumed at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

STATE SEEMS TO SHOW "PERHAPS OTHERS" INVOLVED

Deputy District Attorney Theodore P. Witschen, who conducted the brief examination of the witness, declared before the jury was dismissed that the purpose of showing bribe money paid to Cockrell by Joe May was a portion of a general purpose of showing that a "common scheme" of muleting the gambling agencies of the city existed, to which Nedderman, Cockrell, and perhaps others, were parties.

CHIEF MAY BE HANDED TO LOTTERY HOUSES

With the exception of a few preliminary questions, every query that was put to Joe May met with Crosby's interruption. When the witness answered, too quickly for him he secured a court order to strike out the answer. His objection was usually upon the ground of irrelevancy.

Under Witschen's examination, Joe May declared that he, the proprietor of a number of lotteries in this city and that during the year 1918 he had six such houses in operation. He said that he knew Dave Cockrell and that he had been running the lotteries in fact, for nearly two years. The questioning proceeded:

Q. During that year did you have any conversation with Cockrell regarding the conduct of these houses?

A. Yes, in March, 1918, and before March.

Q. How long before March?

A. I think about a month.

Q. Tell us what that conversation was?

COCKRELL WAS AGENT OF NEDDERMAN, IS CLAIMED

This was the rock upon which the prosecution of the case split. Crosby at once interposed his objection to this line of questioning. Witschen replied in substance as follows:

"We intend to show that in the lottery cases, the gambling houses, and all related occasions of graft, Cockrell acted as Nedderman's agent, as it already has been testified he acted as his agent in the case of the bribe taking. We intend to show that a conspiracy existed among this defendant, Cockrell, and perhaps others, to draw revenue from gambling agencies of this city. We have shown that Cockrell presented to Looz a letter which had been signed by Nedderman regarding gambling.

"COMMON SCHEME TO HOLD UP GAMBLERS"

"We intend now to show that at this time this same Joe May was down there in Chinatown collecting from the Chinese gambling houses. We shall show by Nedderman's own admission that he executed his share in these collections. We shall show that money was similarly collected from other sources; in short, that each of these details was but a part of one common scheme for holding up the gamblers illegally permitted to run."

When Crosby started to reply it became evident that court and jury were in for an extensive session of argumentation and, at the suggestion of Witschen, Judge Quinn dismissed the jury and retired to his chambers to hear the remainder of the argument.

COCKRELL'S ACT NOT RELEVANT, SAYS DEFENSE

"The prosecution has not come into this court upon the conspiracy clause of the code," Crosby there maintained. "If they had done so, it is possible there would have been..."

FASHIONABLY GOWNED GIRLS SOUGHT FOR GEM ROBBERY

Morton Jewelry Store Victim of Clever Shoplifters, Police Believe; Suspects Escape With Stone After Parley

Two beautiful young women, elegantly gowned, are sought today by the Oakland police following the theft of a diamond ring valued at $2000 at the H. Morton jewelry store, 1233 Broadway.

A close watch of other jewelry stores is being kept today to prevent a repetition of thefts by the same pair. The police suspect they are cleverly gowned, in search for expensive booty only, and that they have just arrived in this city.

A clerk of the Broadway gem establishment told police inspectors that a young woman asked to see some four-karat diamonds. While she lingered over the tray another young woman entered the store and attracted the clerk's attention. For a moment the first woman alone and went to wait on the newcomer. She is suspected as an accomplice.

On returning to the store, the woman who was not waited on by the clerk, was seen to leave. She left, and a few minutes later the theft of one of the finest diamonds in the store was discovered. Broadway was closely scanned after the theft, but the police found no one they suspected.

BAN LIFTED ON B—; NO, NOT ON BEER, ON BULLION

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Early today the telegraph instrument at the White House began to click rapidly.

A cable message was coming from the President to Secretary Tumulty:

"I have decided to lift the ban on B—; no, not on beer, on bullion."

Witschen's examination, Joe May declared that he, the proprietor of a number of lotteries in this city and that during the year 1918 he had six such houses in operation. Settlement of the Toronto street railway strike by a compromise was expected today.

DISCUSSIONS FAIL TO END PHONE STRIKE

Company Officials and Leaders of Union Continue Conferences; Offers of the Wire Men Improve the Situation

Bay Labor Chiefs Patch Up Differences With International Chiefs, Whose Orders They Heretofore Ignored

Joint conferences of striking electricians and telephone operators with representatives of the telephone company adjourned in San Francisco shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon with some progress reported by International Vice-President L. C. Grasser, who is chairman of the strikers' conference committee.

Superintendent J. P. Downs formally announced an concession by the company of a five-year minimum contract, which the strikers could obtain a $18 maximum wage scale but said he had no authority to concede at this time to their demand that the maximum be fixed by them at three years.

In the case of the men, Superintendent D. P. Fullerton held firmly to the 15 months' agreement and a six-dollar basic wage but indicated, according to Grasser, that he would take under consideration at a future meeting, possibly tomorrow, their demand that it be reduced to one year.

Both Committees Will Report to Mayor

Both committees will report the progress made, to Mayor Rolph and the supervisors' strike committee this afternoon as well as to the general committee of the workers which met at 2 o'clock in the Pacific building.

Grasser announced that "outside influence which was being brought to bear upon the strikers" and specifically naming Eugene J. Morgan, a well-known labor leader, as a "house cleaner." "I will refuse to attend any further meetings at which these men are present," he said. "Boishe, and radical methods will find no place in the ranks of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers."

A sensation was caused by the statement to the supervisors of Florence A. Daly, a member of the San Francisco union.

"Many of the girls who have no homes for which they can look for support secure additional employment as waitresses in the city or frequent dance halls after they have done an honest day's work for the telephone company," she said.

The local unions evidently have been in a state of confusion, as the officials of the international union, from whose authority they were in revolt yesterday, L. C. Grasser, international vice-president, announced that he does not now approve of the submission of the seven-year term proposal to a referendum vote of the unions. It was his reported stand in favor of such a referendum that caused the split.

Initiation of the telephone company will grant the concessions desired by the employees if assurance is given that the state will permit rates for telephone service to be raised were given at yesterday's conference. Fullerton asked Mayor Rolph:

"Can you guarantee a sufficient rate increase?"

The mayor replied: "I'll stake my job that the telephone commission will grant any slight increase that is necessary to pay the telephone girls a living wage and the public will endorse their action."

Five Accused of Strike Disorders

Five persons are today charged with creating disorder in connection with the telephone strike, following an incident last night in which the police interfered.

Refused to move on in front of the Oakland Exchange, according to the police, and was arrested. It is charged he defied the police.

After a summons that carried telephone strike breakers to work at the Oakland Exchange. For several blocks a party of four canny-looking men, carrying a large sign, according to a police report, and heaped abuse upon the occupants and the driver. R. L. Shaw, Police-Milton Emigh arrested them.

They gave the names: Ethel Taylor, 17, Eva O'Malley, 26, Earl Johnson and Carl Franzen. They were released on $10 bail.

DRIVER FOR STRIKE BREAKERS ARRESTED

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Eldredge T. Jones, who came from Oregon to operate a telephone company truck, carrying strike-breakers to and from the exchanges, was arrested today on charges of violating the state automobile act.

Police Judge Sullivan found Jones guilty of having no license to carry passengers, no driver's license, identification slip and no state license. He will be sentenced to a month in prison.

LOS ANGELES, June 27.—A new offer of increased wages to the striking electricians of the Southern California Telephone company was made today to the union men today by President A. B. Cass of the company.

Under the wage scale proposed and which, according to Cass is the last word of the company to the men on strike, journeyman electricians will be paid $6 a day, head gangmen $6.25 a day, cable splicers $6.50 a day, gang foremen $10 a month and construction foremen $175 a month.

It was said, would abide by any agreement reached at the conference in San Francisco regarding the wage scale to be offered girl operators now on strike.

PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT APPROVED BY 17 TO 2 VOTE

Law Cannot Be Enacted Before July, but Bill Reported from Committee Will Be Up for House Action Soon

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Enforcement legislation for both wartime and constitutional prohibition was formally reported to the House in a bill of two sections by the House Judiciary committee today.

The vote on reporting the legislation was 17 to 2. The bill now stands, more lenient laws are provided in one section for wartime prohibition than in the constitutional prohibition section.

The main provisions were not changed from those agreed upon Wednesday. The two members of the committee voting against the bill were Representatives Igoe and Dwyer of St. Louis.

CANNOT BE ENACTED BEFORE JULY FIRST

A special rule for consideration of the legislation will be asked of the rules committee, but it is practically certain it will not come up in the House until the middle of July. A minority report will be filed by five members of the committee.

Another eleventh hour move to report a separate bill for wartime prohibition in the hope of rushing it through before July 1, failed by a vote of 10 to 6, the committee standing by its original intention to provide separate enforcement provisions for the two kinds of prohibition, but in one bill.

Just before reporting the bill the committee adopted an amendment by Representative Steele, Pennsylvania, allowing non-ferrous beverages to reduce the amount of alcohol in intoxicating beverages so that they may be classed as soft drinks. The amount of alcohol after the reduction will be less than one-half of one per cent. This will allow the use of a large amount of wine and beer, Steele told the committee.

EXPECT PRESIDENT TO LIFT PROHIBITION

WASHINGTON, June 27.—With only three days remaining until war time prohibition is due to go into effect, the prohibition situation today was:

1.—Prominent officials and members of Congress still believed the President will take action to repeal war time prohibition as it affects light wines and beer. This action will come after the signing of the treaty, they claim.

2.—Dry leaders in Congress admitted that it would be impossible to pass any enforcement legislation for the war time prohibition before July 1.

3.—The House Judiciary committee formally reported to the House today a bill providing for the enforcement of war time prohibition, and the other for constitutional prohibition.

4.—Should Congress approve the prohibition plan, enforcement of the war time prohibition will be more lenient than previously planned by the House Judiciary committee. Only the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor are prohibited, but the House defines intoxicating liquor under the war time act as any beverage that contains more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol.

5.—Although enforcement legislation almost certainly cannot be passed before July 1, drys in Congress believe the war time act in itself provides adequate enforcement provisions. While it does not define intoxicating liquor, the manufacture and sale of liquor is prohibited with penalties of imprisonment from 30 to 90 days and fines of from $100 to $1000.

WILL KEEP CLOSE WATCH ON "DOPE PEDDLERS"

With the advent of national prohibition July 1, internal revenue officers will speed up their hunt for "dope peddlers."

Beginning next Tuesday one hundred additional agents will be ordered to search for unscrupulous doctors, druggists and underworld characters who are preying on thousands of addicts in violation of the Harrison act, which recent legislation has strengthened by amendments.

Suggestions are being considered for the United States to take up with Canada and Mexico means of stopping smuggling.

Efforts will be made to obtain concerted action on the part of city, county and state health authorities to curb the trade.

Educational campaigns in all parts have been suggested to acquaint the public with the menace of the situation.

A recent report of a commission named by the secretary of the treasury to investigate the traffic in narcotics, said from 10 to 60 times more opium is consumed by the people of the United States than by any other country.

GERMAN DELEGATION ON WAY TO SIGN TREATY

COBLENZ, June 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—Foreign Secretary Muller and Colonial Secretary Bell, the two German peace delegates on their way to Versailles, passed through Cologne at 9:45 o'clock this morning, a telephone message from Cologne reported.

A Berlin despatch to the Cologne newspapers says that the German delegates understand they are to sign the treaty at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

According to advices received by the American authorities here, Muller, Muller and Bell left Berlin in the greatest secrecy, on a special train, fearing an attempt on their lives.

PARIS, June 27.—Plans were completed by the council of four today for the signing of the peace treaty at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. No official statement, however, issued by the council.

President Wilson received American newspaper correspondents at the Hotel de Crillon at 2 o'clock this afternoon and said his good-byes to them.

By FRED S. FEIGUSON, United Press Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, June 27.—With every preparation completed for signing the peace treaty in Versailles at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, the allied delegates today turned their attention to the internal situation in Germany.

Communist uprisings in Berlin and Hamburg, together with the reported escape of the former crown prince from Holland into Germany, were regarded as possibly significant in view of the last night fight on the German government against unconditional acceptance of the terms.

Germany, it was believed in some quarters, was the verge of a counter-revolution, and possibly too. While the present government's attention is directed to the radical revolts in Berlin and Hamburg, it was thought the royalists in the eastern territories might seize the opportunity to attempt a restoration of the empire.

SUCCESS OF EITHER REVOLUTION IS DOUBTFUL.

Success of either possible movement is doubtful, however, as it is admitted that further internal disorder in Germany at this time would prove embarrassing to the allies. What part the former crown prince might play in the royalist counter-revolution was the basis for considerable speculation. Although known to be unpopular even with the majority of the militarists, it was pointed out that he, as the Hohenzollern, was not a candidate for the throne in the event an attempt is made to restore the empire.

The new German delegation which will arrive here at 3 o'clock tomorrow, it consists of Foreign Minister Muller and Colonial Minister Bell. Accompanied by a small staff of assistants, these two officials were scheduled to arrive here at 3 o'clock tomorrow morning, the ceremony beginning in the palace at Versailles eight hours later.

SITUATION IN EUROPE

(By the Associated Press)

Dr. Herman Mueller, German foreign minister, and Dr. Johannes Bell, minister of the colonies, are on their way from Berlin to Versailles to sign the treaty of peace, having passed through Cologne this morning. Arrangements are proceeding for the signing of the treaty at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Notwithstanding the probability that the formal signing of the treaty will take place in the afternoon, Paris reports intimate that there is feeling among the allied delegates that the signing may not bring to a close the tense situation between the allies and Germans. A bad impression as to the stability of the present German government has been created in Paris. It is pointed out that there is no provision in the treaty as to when the German peace action is to be completed.

Meanwhile, Stuttgart despatch to a Berlin newspaper states that former Emperor Wilhelm is planning to return to Germany before the allies can demand his surrender by the Netherlands government.

Despatches report the internal situation in Germany becoming increasingly serious. Affairs at Hamburg are concededly in a bad way, and there is a counter-revolutionary movement is said to be brewing in the eastern part of the country.

"After peace is signed I intend to live on my estates in Silesia. There is no truth in the reports that I am to start a pottery factory. The Kaiser will remain in Amerongen for some time."

The armistice between Poland and Ukraine ended June 21, when official reports were received that the Ukrainian peasant leader, advised Polish generals that Petura had not authorized the negotiations which resulted in the armistice.

BERLIN, June 27.—(By the Associated Press.)—General Hoffman, who was a prime mover in the negotiations leading up to the Brest-Litovsk treaty, has been dismissed from his command in the eastern district, having declared he would defend that district to the last man in defiance of the government's orders and never recognize the peace treaty.

A meeting has been called at Danzig to organize an East Prussian republic.

General Hoffman has protested publicly against the provisions of the peace treaty, granting German territory in the east to the Poles.

RIOTS RAGE IN HAMBURG AND FOE CAPITAL

Spirit of Revolt Sweeps Over Germany as Protest Against Food Scarcity and the Prices Charged in That Country

American Relief Ships Now in Danger from the Spartacist Mob; Railway Strike Is Spreading Over the Nation

BERLIN, June 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—The German government troops ordered to Hamburg to suppress disorders there reached the suburbs of the city this morning. The troops ordered the immediate cessation of hostilities, the release of all prisoners and the delivery of weapons.

HAMBURG, Thursday, June 26.—The submission of twelve now in control of the city has issued a statement regarding disorders there, which reads:

"Again blood has been down in Hamburg. Out of spontaneous disgust for the shameful and inhuman conditions there has grown a stormy movement of protest which the Hamburg government thought to choke in blood. It was volunteers from Altona, a suburb of Hamburg, who in conjunction with Hamburg police brought about the bath of blood."

Throughout all Germany in the last few days there have been spontaneous tumults that have not been political in character but have been born of desperation on the part of starving people forced to pay money for the spoils of a government troops. Foodstuffs sold in order to poison those who retained their health to a certain extent during the fearful world's murder."

FOODSTUFFS HAMBURG

"The occurrence at Hamburg, Luck and other cities were only possible because private capitalist profiteers had been able to exercise control over the working people. The workers' struggle with the troops! Down with senators who shoot working men!"

A despatch says American relief workers are not disturbed and will continue work.

NO GAMBLING BEFORE NEDDERMAN BECAME POLICE CHIEF, SAYS LOORZ

DEFENSE COUNSEL GRILLS WITNESS

Some justification for their seeking to introduce the sort of evidence they now offer. But this defendant cannot be rightly asked to prove that every separate act which Cockrell or anybody else committed was not committed as an agent of this defendant. There is nothing to show that Cockrell appeared before the Chinese as the agent of Nedderman. We are ready to meet all of the inducements at once if they want to try them that way, but we shall demand that we be asked to meet them fairly.

The Ruff case in San Francisco came in for brief attention, as did cases in the San Francisco graft prosecution of several years ago. Particularly, however, the references of counsel for both sides were to Minnesota and Ohio analogous cases, though California cases were also cited by the state when the hearing was resumed this afternoon. There was every indication today that the Nedderman trial would occupy at least the two weeks that was allotted to it and that, after that it might be necessary to postpone the Cockrell and Cockrell and O'Neill cases in order to afford it further time. Today is the last day of the trial this week. It will be further interrupted by next week's holidays, so that only three days after today are available before the next case is scheduled on Judge Quinn's calendar.

Philip M. Carey, who has been retained as chief counsel by Cockrell and O'Neill, was among those attending the hearing of the case yesterday and today. Carey was several times in conference with Peter J. Crosby, counsel for Nedderman, as was also Charles Brennan, a San Francisco attorney, expected to be associated in the succeeding trials. The venerable volume known as "Hoyle's" finds a rival in the transcript of yesterday afternoon's initial testimony. Crosby's efforts were directed for the moment to determining what sort of games were being played at the Bartenders' Club but Loorz proved a poor witness in regard to the method of play of these games.

"I can't play poker; I don't know how to play it," he replied when Crosby asked how poker was played. Then Crosby insisted upon an answer but it came from Decoto instead.

"There are a lot of people, Mr. Crosby," he said, "who think they can play poker but cannot."

Crosby suggested to the witness that there was a game played with cards, but the witness would specify no further. Some of the other games that were in play, such as studhorse and craps, he described briefly in reply to questions.

Most of the afternoon testimony under cross-examination was of a fragmentary nature. Crosby had finished with the witness at the time of adjournment, but stipulated that he might require him back on short notice as the trial progressed.

At one stage of the inquiry Crosby demanded:

"Were you interested in the prosecution of this defendant before you saw Captain Peterson?"

Loorz said he was not. Asked if he was interested after the interview with Peterson he again replied in the negative, and similarly when asked if he was ever so interested.

JULY MOY, Chinese gambler, who is a witness against former Police Chief J. H. Nedderman.

"Then," queried Crosby, "you do not care whether he is acquitted or convicted?"

"Yes I do," said Loorz. "I'd rather see him not convicted."

A few moments later Loorz declared he had not been promised immunity from prosecution for alleged gambling for testifying in this case.

Deputy District Attorney Wittchen in re-direct examination, offered a supplement to Crosby's earlier statement of Loorz as a native of Germany when he drew from the witness that he was an American citizen and that his citizenship papers dated from 1900.

Early in the afternoon testimony Crosby offered this question:

"Were studhorse poker, craps and other gambling games played at the Bartenders' Club before Nedderman became chief of police?"

Loorz said they were not.

"While Peterson was chief of police was the club raided?"

"No, sir," the witness concluded. "There wasn't any illegal gambling going on there."

Loorz explained that before Nedderman became chief of police the front room of the club at 418 Twelfth street was used for card games and that these were innocent games and that gambling was not practiced.

Some time after Nedderman had become chief of police he said that the back room was used for gambling, that buzzers were put in to warn players and other arrangements made. Loorz stated that no percentage was taken by the establishment.

In a series of subsequent questions Crosby contrasted Loorz's testimony before the grand jury on various items of his alleged bribing with his statements regarding the same items in the present trial. Regarding the payment of money to Edwin's cafe he brought out that in the present trial Loorz had testified that no conversation had occurred between him and the then chief, but that the money simply had been passed over to the latter. He quoted from the grand jury transcript details of a brief conversation between Loorz and Nedderman which the former then said had occurred.

Loorz declared that no one else was ever present when money was paid by him to Nedderman.

On the question of what time in the month the money was paid in each instance Crosby attempted to show a number of discrepancies in witness' two testimonies. When asked on one occasion he said he paid the money on the 15th of the month, on the other the transcript was read to show that he said on or about "that date" in answer to Crosby's question as to what month a certain payment was made for.

Loorz replied:

"When I paid him I didn't care when I was paying him for, just so I paid him."

Pressed for more specific explanation later in the cross-examination, Loorz did admit, however, that the money was supposedly paid in advance. This brought a further attack from Crosby regarding a payment alleged on one instance to have been made in June. The dialogue proceeded thus:

Q. Did you pay him every month?

A. No, not every month.

Q. Did you pay him in June? (This was in 1918).

A. No, I didn't pay him in June. He was away in June. I didn't see him in June.

Here Crosby read from the grand jury transcript testimony imputed to Loorz in which the latter had stated categorically that he paid Nedderman in January, February, March, and so on, including June and ending with August.

"Yes, I said that," Loorz maintained. "I meant I paid him for June."

The income tax law also had its findings in the cross-examination when Crosby sought to show whether Loorz paid an income tax for 1917, and then for 1918 and whether this indicated the payment of the bribe moneys to which Loorz had testified.

"You don't suppose," ejaculated Wittchen at this point, "that a man is going to put down in his income tax declaration the amounts he used to bribe a chief of police, do you?"

INCOME NOT PAID.

But the testimony developed that Loorz had not paid an income tax in either year.

"I didn't make enough to pay an income tax on," he said.

Crosby's efforts to develop this line further were met with objections.

by the prosecution which the court sustained. Such, for example, was the fate of his question as to how much Loorz actually made in 1917. Another line of questioning was the following:

Q. While you were running the Bartenders' Club did you know Jack Woolley?

A. Yes, I knew him.

Q. Did Woolley, during the time you had anything to do with the Bartenders' Club, have any interest in the game that was being played there?

A. Not that I know of; I only had Bard's word for it, that was all.

Still another discrepancy in testimony was here exposed by Crosby. The preceding day Loorz had testified that all payments he made to Nedderman were made at the latter's office in the club hall, except those which he made to him at Edwin's, his home and the Hotel Oakland. Crosby read from the grand jury transcript to show that Loorz had then stated that he paid Nedderman "once or twice at his office, the same at the Hotel Oakland and the same at his home."

"What I say now is correct," Loorz declared.

TELEPHONE PAYMENT AT HOTEL OAKLAND.

"Where at the Hotel Oakland did you pay the money?" Crosby asked.

"At the outside balcony, there off the Thirteenth street entrance," Loorz declared and added under questioning that it was "along the corridor where the columns are."

Loorz could not recall which month it was he paid the money there to Nedderman, what time of the year it was, whether it was raining or fair, what time of day it was, where he had come from to meet the chief there or whether he went after delivering the money. He was emphatic in stating that he paid the chief $270 on this occasion and that it was in paper money.

Wittchen made an effort in the re-direct examination to clear up the incident of the June payment and Loorz explained that, while he did not pay over the money in June to Nedderman, the latter being then out of town, he did pay it in July, making two payments in the latter month.

MUELLER LEAVES WITH BLEEDING HEART.

By ALFRED G. ANDERSEN, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

BERLIN, June 27.—"I leave with a bleeding heart," declared Foreign Minister Hermann Mueller as he boarded a train at Potsdamer station last night en route to Versailles, where he will head the German delegation that will sign the peace treaty. He added that he considered himself the "medium of a great sacrifice."

Heir Mueller was joined at Essen this morning by Dr. Bell, another member of the cabinet, who is going to Versailles to sign the treaty. They are due to arrive in the old French capital early Saturday morning.

Heir Mueller said the German committee would discuss en route to Versailles the question of whether they would participate in any peace celebrations in Germany after the signing of the treaty.

German Officers Advertise Plan to Spare Kaiser

(By Associated Press)

COBLENZ, Thursday, June 26.—The following advertisement is appearing in newspapers in various parts of unoccupied Germany, being a part of the campaign that is going on throughout the country under the auspices of the Officers' Alliance:

"We have telegraphed the Holland government as follows: 'The German Officers' Alliance, filled with gratitude for the hospitality afforded the German Kaiser by Holland in the name of millions of Germans, request the government of The Netherlands to refuse to deliver the Kaiser to the entente. We cannot now defend our former year lord with our bodies, but we expect the magnanimity of the Dutch to spare us this final, and most humiliating disgrace.'

No papers appearing in the American occupied area have been permitted to print the advertisement, which is addressed 'To All Germans.'

Eddie Rickenbacker Entertained in S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—America's premier "ace" Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, arrived here from Los Angeles and a luncheon was given in his honor at the St. Francis hotel by the Motor Dealers' Association.

Captain Rickenbacker, who has been mustered out of the service, said he intended to go into aviation on a commercial basis and probably would establish offices both here and in Los Angeles in the near future.

DAMAGED ON ROCKS IN COLUMBIA RIVER

ASTORIA, Ore., June 27.—The steamer West Harlan, of the emergency fleet corporation, struck in a shoal of rock in the Columbia river during the night and is badly damaged, according to word received here.

The West Harlan, commanded by Captain S. N. Ellenburg, was outdocked with a load of wheat for the Atlantic coast. Seventeen miles east of here, in the river, she struck the pinnacle of sharp rocks, her forepeak being stove in. She is shipping water, but with all pumps working Chief Engineer Miller thought he could keep pace with the intake.

The West Harlan was being piloted out across the bar by River Pilot J. J. Anderson when she struck. It is not known whether the accident occurred because of broken steering gear or whether the gear became disabled after striking, but investigation today showed the apparatus out of order.

An effort to make temporary repairs and take the vessel back to Portland will be made. No one was injured. The West Harlan was launched in May by the Columbia River Shipbuilding corporation. The accident is the first to occur to any of the shipping board vessels sailing from the Columbia river.

Anthrax Germs in Shaving Brushes

BOSTON, June 28.—Health Commissioner Woodward has warned barbers, druggists and department stores in the state against the possibility of shaving brushes containing the germs of the deadly disease of anthrax.

Dr. Woodward states that the federal health investigators have traced the source of the disease to the same material from which shaving brushes are made. He recommends that all brushes now on the market which do not bear the name or trade mark of the manufacturer should be returned or disinfected.

Soldier Candidates Bob Up in Missouri

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 26.—The crop of prospective soldier candidates in Missouri already has begun to show. It is common gossip among the Missouri men and even the Kansas men of the 139th infantry that Colonel Carl Ristline, the commander of that regiment, will be a Reiger, of the same regiment, is also said to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination. Both officers made splendid war records, and are prominent otherwise, so the boys are betting their commanders will show a pair of clean heels to their opposition.

WILSON SURE SENATE WILL FAVOR LEAGUE

PARIS, June 27.—President Wilson has the utmost confidence that the United States Senate will ratify the peace treaty shortly after it is presented in its final form.

The President plans to sail immediately after the signing, probably Sunday noon, landing in New York a week later. It is expected that he will request a joint session of the Senate and House on Monday, when he will address the members and at the same time deliver the treaty to the Senate committee on foreign relations.

Latest advice reaching the President indicates that sufficient votes can be mustered to secure ratification, although the administration expects a bitter fight in the final stages.

The President has informed his colleagues that he is entirely convinced that public opinion will demand the ratification and that it will be unwilling to consent to a separation of the treaty and the League of Nations covenant.

Immediately following his address to Congress the President will commence a countrywide tour, presenting the facts to the people.

Wilson Sees War Wrongs Righted World Is Awakened to Watch Hun

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

PARIS, Thursday, June 26.—The allies' duty to be vigilant in enforcing the peace terms, to the point of American participation in the war were among subjects discussed by President Poincaré at the dinner which he and Mme. Poincaré gave to President and Mrs. Wilson and delegates to the peace conference at the presidential palace here tonight. President Poincaré's speech preceded that of President Wilson, who made a formal farewell to France and the French people.

There were present diplomats and delegates from all countries attending the peace conference. President Wilson and President Poincaré were seated at the head of the table with Mrs. Wilson at the host's left and Mme. Poincaré at President Wilson's right.

TOAST TO WILSON.
President Poincaré in giving a toast to President Wilson asked that the allied and associated powers should be prepared to leave Europe, to render homage once more to the high spirit of justice in which President Wilson had presided with other representatives of the allied and associated powers.

"This great laborious peace in which the justice saved by our victory is going definitely to inscribe its will in favor of reparation."

Responding to the address made by M. Poincaré, President Wilson said: "I thank you most sincerely for the words that you have uttered."

"I feel that my stay here, sir, has lightened both my heart and my mind. It has enabled me personally to see the evidence of the suffering and the sacrifices of France. It has enabled me to come in to personal touch with the leaders of the French people, and, through the medium of intercourse with them, to understand better, I hope, than I understood before, the motives, the ambitions and the principles which actuate this great nation. It has, therefore, been to me a lesson in the roots of friendship in those things which make the intercourse of nations profitable and serviceable for all the rest of mankind."

"Sometimes the work of the conference has seemed to go very slowly, sometimes it has seemed as if there were unnecessary obstacles to agreement; but as the weeks have lengthened I have seemed to see the profit that came out of this. Quick conclusions would not have produced that intimate knowledge of each other's mind, which I think has come out of these daily conferences."

PRaises COMRADES.
"We have been constantly in the presence of each other's motives and characters, and the comradeships which are based upon that sort of knowledge are sure to be very much more intelligent not only but to breed a much more intimate sympathy and comprehension than could otherwise be created."

"These six months have been six months which have woven new fibers of connection between the hearts of our people. And something more than friendship and intimate sympathy has come out of this intercourse."

"Friendship is a very good thing. Intimacy is a very good thing. But friendship may end with sentiment. A new thing that has happened is that we have translated our common principles and our common purposes into a common plan. When we part, we are not going to part with a finished work, but with a work one portion of which is finished and the other portion of which is only begun."

FIXED FIRM.
"We have finished the formulation of the peace, but we have begun a plan of cooperation which I believe will broaden and strengthen as the years go by, so that the grip of the hand that we have taken will not need to be relaxed. We have begun and shall continue to be comrades in tasks which, because they are common, will weave out of our sentiments a common conception of duty and a common conception of the rights of men of every race and of every class. If it be true that that has been accomplished, it is a very great thing."

"As I go away from these scenes, I think I shall realize that I have been present at one of the most vital things that has happened in the history of nations. Nations have formed contracts with each other before, but they never have formed partnerships. They have associated themselves temporarily, but they never before have associated themselves permanently."

A GREAT WRONG.
"The wrong that was done in the waging of this war was a great wrong, but it was a great wrong because it was a great moral necessity of seeing that it was necessary that men should band themselves together in order that such a wrong should never be perpetrated again."

"Merely to beat a nation that was wrong once is not enough. There must follow the warning to all other nations that would do like things that they in turn will be vanquished and shamed if they attempt a dishonorable purpose."

"You can see, therefore, sir, with what deep feeling those of us who must now for a little while turn away from France, shall leave your shores, and though the ocean is broad it will seem very narrow in the future. It will be easier to understand each other than it ever was before, and with the confident intercourse of cooperation, the understanding will be strengthened into action and action will itself be strengthened."

EDUCATE ALIKE OUR PURPOSE AND OUR THOUGHT.
"So, sir, in saying good-by to France, I am only saying a sort of physical good-by; not a spiritual good-by."

"I shall retain in my heart always the warm feelings which the generous treatment of this great people has generated in my heart. And I wish in my turn, sir, to propose, as you have proposed, the continued and increasing friendship of the two nations, the safety and prosperity of France, the closer and closer communion of the peoples, and the strengthening of every influence which instructs the mind and the purpose of humanity."

POINCARÉ'S ADDRESS.
President Poincaré, referring to the treaty, said:

"The treaties, once signed, must be wholly applied and persistence on our account will be no less indispensable to their execution. The peace of Europe is not a simple piece of paper."

"We want, all of us, as you do, Mr. President, that this peace be not vain words, that it be not a passing flash of joy appearing for one evening in blood-stained Europe. We want, as you do, the society of nations, shall become a beneficent reality. We want, as you do, that all the clauses to which our enemies are going to subscribe be loyally observed."

"The disposition shown by violations in advance of a treaty that one is going to undertake to respect, makes it our duty to watch carefully to see that the criminals do not rekindle sooner or later the conflagration which we have smothered."

"German ships sunk by their crews, French flags burned and demonstrations before the new Polish frontiers are not signs of repentance."

"We must remain together, firmly united, to gather the fruits of the victory that we obtained together."

President Wilson, in concluding his address, said:

"I feel that my stay here, sir, has lightened both my heart and my mind. It has enabled me personally to see the evidence of the suffering and the sacrifices of France. It has enabled me to come in to personal touch with the leaders of the French people, and, through the medium of intercourse with them, to understand better, I hope, than I understood before, the motives, the ambitions and the principles which actuate this great nation. ALLIES REJECT TURK PLEA TO KEEP TERRITORY

PARIS, June 26.—(By the Associated Press).—The allied council has replied to the Turkish memorandum, saying that it could not accept the Turkish claim that its territories be restored undiminished. The statement of Damad Ferid (Sherif) Pasha, delivered to the Council of the Four, June 17, and the allied reply, the allied and associated governments, dated June 25, were made public today. The Turkish note in part follows:

"I should not be bold enough to come before the high assembly if I thought that the Ottoman people had incurred any share of responsibility in the war, which has ravaged Europe and Asia with fire and sword."

"I apologize in advance for the development which I must give to my statement, for I am, in point of fact, defending today before the public opinion of the whole world and before history a most complicated and ill-understood case."

"The responsibility for the war in the East—assumed without the knowledge of the sovereignty of the people in the Black Sea by a German ship commanded by a German admiral—rests entirely with the signatories of the secret treaties, which were unknown alike to the Ottoman people and to the European chancelleries."

PEOPLE ARE FOOLED.
"When war had once been declared the eternal covetousness of Russia as regards Constantinople was skillfully represented to the people as an imminent danger and anxiety for the preservation of national existence thereupon rendered the struggle a desperate one. Our archives are, moreover, thrown entirely open to an inquiry which would enable the statements which I have the honor to make to this high assembly to be amply confirmed."

"It is stated that the Ottoman people desire to see the end of a continued occupation of its territories and it is asserted that this occupation has resulted in excesses committed to the hurt of the Moslem population. The note continues:

"It desires with equal earnestness the maintenance on the basis of the status quo antebellum of the integrity of the Ottoman Empire, which during the last forty years has been reduced to the least possible limits."

"It, lastly, wishes to be granted in Thrace, to the northwest of Adrianople, where the Mohammedan population is in overwhelming majority, a frontier line which will render possible the defense of Adrianople and Constantinople."

"What we ask for this is, moreover, completely in conformity with President Wilson's principles, which we invoke when we request an armistice. A fresh parceling out of the Ottoman Empire would entirely upset the balance of the east."

"The conscience of the world could only approve conditions of peace which are compatible with right with the aspirations of peoples and with eminent justice."

REPLY OF ALLIES.
The allied reply in part follows:

"The council of the principal allied and associated powers have read with the most careful attention the Ottoman memorandum presented to them by your excellency on June 17, and, in accordance with the promise then made, desire now to offer the following observations upon it:

"In your recital of the political intrigues which accompanied Turkey's entry into the war and of the tragedies which followed it, your excellency makes no attempt to excuse or qualify the crimes of which the Turkish Government was then guilty. It is admitted directly, or by implication, that Turkey had no cause of quarrel with the entente powers; that she acted as the sub-servant of Germany; that the war, begun without excess and conducted without mercy, was accompanied by massacres whose calculated atrocious equals or exceeds anything in recorded history."

CRIMES OF OFFICIALS?
"But it is argued that these crimes were committed by a Turkish Government, for whose misdeeds the Turkish people were not responsible; that there was in them no element of religious fanaticism; that Moslems suffered from them not less than Christians; that they were entirely out of harmony with Turkish tradition as historically exhibited in the treatment by Turkey of subject races; that the maintenance of the Turkish Empire is necessary for the religious equilibrium of the world; so that policy, not less than justice, requires that its territories should be restored undiminished as they existed when the war broke out."

"The council can neither accept this conclusion nor the argument by which it is supported. They do not, indeed, doubt that the present government of Turkey profoundly disapproves of the policy pursued by its predecessors. Even if consideration of morality did not weigh with it—as doubtless they did—consideration of expediency would be conclusive. As individuals its members have every motive, as well as every right, to repudiate the actions which have proved so disastrous to their country."

"But, speaking generally, a nation must be judged by the government which rules it, which directs its foreign policy, which controls its armies. Nor can Turkey claim any relief from the legitimate consequences of this doctrine merely because her affairs at a most critical moment in her history had fallen into the hands of men utterly devoid of the principle of pity, could not even command success."

Rates for Street Lighting Are Fixed

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—The recent decision of the Railroad Commission which fixed the rate to be charged by the Public Utilities Commission for street lighting and the commission in a supplemental order issued today remedied the defect as follows:

NO-CUT PRICES IN RENTAL OF AUDITORIUM

A move will be made to charge the full schedule rentals for the Auditorium and the Auditorium Theater when used for private entertainment enterprises, and that the lines will be tightened when such private enterprises stage shows masquerading as "public affairs" or "war work." In future, says Commissioner Fred Soderberg. According to Commissioner F. F. Morse he and Commissioner of Revenue and Finance W. H. Edwards have agreed to back this plan, after attending a prize fight last night at the Auditorium and noting the crowds there.

The schedule of rentals for private affairs is the same as that of theater, said Soderberg. "But shows have been booked in there at a less rental under various pretexts. Those prize fights only pay $50 rent because they are commingled as war work. The Land Show, alleged to be a public enterprise, operated as a private concern, but did not pay the rent a private concern should have been charged, and in many other ways the regular rentals have been avoided. I am investigating now to see whether this prize fight agreement, which was signed by Ralph York, cannot be halted."

"I was commissioner of public works when that prize fight agreement was made with the city attorney, and bring it before the city council next week if the city's legal adviser deems this to be necessary."

Miss Elise Myers To Wed Nevada City Attorney

The end of the month has brought down upon society an avalanche of betrothals and usually accompanied by the announcement that the wedding will be within the early full months. The latest belle to announce her engagement is Miss Elise Myers, whose betrothal to Carroll Searls, attorney of Nevada City, has just been made known to Eastbay friends. The bride's family formerly made their home in Nevada, but for the past year have made their residence in the Eastbay cities. Miss Myers is a sister of Miss Jane Myers and of Mrs. Harry Hatfield of Honolulu, and daughter of Mrs. L. L. Myers of Oakland.

The marriage of the young couple is to take place in September in Nevada City.

Carroll Searls was a member of the class of '15 of the University of California and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Searls of Nevada. He is a grandson of Judge Niles Searls of the Supreme court of California and formerly a resident of Oakland.

Tuesday, June 24, was a happy occasion at the family home of Mrs. Matilda Brown, whose birthday it was. A family reunion was held at the home in Twenty-ninth street. Among those who called to offer their felicitations were Mr. and Mrs. Delger Trowbridge, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Van Horn, William Miller, Jr., Captain Fred Miller, and Mrs. William Miller.

Miss Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rowan Hardin, Judge and Mrs. Everett J. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. David E. Brown, Miss Annie Florio Brown, and Miss Matilda E. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Jefford of Stockton, who have been guests of Mrs. Jefford's mother for the week past, have returned home, accompanied by Miss Jessie E. Covard of Berkeley. The first of July the Jeffords will return to her home here, after a residence of eighteen months in Stockton.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard W. White and children are home again, after a vacation spent in the southern part of the state, going as far south as San Diego.

Piano Wanted For Women in Isolation Ward

Up on the fourteenth floor of the city hall is located the isolation ward and hospital of the women's department. As the inmates of the returned convalescent soldiers are kept occupied by supplying them with something to work on or to pass away the long hours before them, so these patients in the jail wards require something to while away the hours. Music is one of the strongest attractions for them and there is need for a piano, second-hand will do just as well as the upright model, since there is little room to spare in the recreation quarters. Needlework is the next best thing, but embroidery, crocheting, the silk and stained garments are expensive and donations of these would be most acceptable. Reading matter of a lighter vein is desirable though the diversion is not one of the most desired by the patients.

Reading has proved one of the greatest benefits to hospital patients in the past. Bag patterns with a good supply of var-colored beads would serve as an incentive to future occupation.

These little things would add many an hour of cheer to the convalescent patients. Donations should be sent to the Jail Hospital, City Hall, care of Dr. E. F. Jones, of the bacteriological department.

U. S. CEASES CANCELING SHIP DEALS

George A. Ames, president and general manager of the Moore Shipbuilding Company, returned this week from Philadelphia and Washington, D. C., where he has been conferring with representatives of the United States Shipping Board, members of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, representatives and senators in Congress regarding the shipbuilding industry on the Pacific Coast.

He returns with the assurance of the men he conferred with that their cancellations of the shipbuilding contracts on the Pacific Coast would be made, providing Congress appropriates the $88,000,000 necessary to finish the contracts now in hand. While this assurance came from Edward N. Hurley, chairman of the United States Shipping Board, and John H. Rossier, director of operations of the United States Shipping Board, he was also assured by members of both houses of Congress that the money necessary to finish the contracts would be provided.

"We were also assured," said President Ames on his return, "by members of the shipping board that if they were permitted to build a larger type of cargo carrying vessels, contracts for the building of some of these vessels would be awarded the shipbuilders of Oakland and San Francisco, as well as the entire Pacific Coast."

CHANGE CHARGED ON TOMBSTONE IN $10,000 SUIT

LOS ANGELES, June 27.—For the removal of a tombstone in the Inglewood cemetery, $10,000 is demanded in a suit filed in the Superior court by J. M. Johnson, realty operator, and his sisters, Pearl K. Johnson and Alice D. Duman, against the Rosedale Granite company and Attorney George H. Woodruff.

It is alleged that the defendants caused the monument to be removed from the grave of Thomas Johnson and Alice C. Johnson, father and mother of the plaintiffs, "for the purpose of causing said tombstone to be mutilated and defaced." It is also alleged that the casket containing the ashes of Mrs. Johnson was removed.

Attorney Woodruff stated that the stone had merely been removed for the purpose of adding to the inscription thereon the name of Mrs. Iva M. Johnson, the second wife of Thomas Johnson. The casket containing the ashes of the first wife, he said, was imbedded in the monument and was still there.

KANSAS SEEKS HARVESTERS.

TOPEKA, Kan., June 27.—Governor Henry J. Allen last night telegraphed to the demobilization bureau at St. Louis, Mo., urging that more harvest hands be rushed to the Kansas wheat fields.

Given the credit of lifting the wartime ban that forbids shipbuilders of the United States to bid on private contracts, either foreign or in the United States.

"If the United States government," continued President Ames, in discussing the problem, "deems it advisable to sell the boats that have been completed to foreign or American investors, the government should also build the boats that were provided for in the contracts that have been cancelled. In this way the people of this country would be assured of an American merchant marine."

EXPECT U. OF C. ATTENDANCE TO BREAK RECORD

BERKELEY, June 28.—Agitation for what is expected to be the biggest summer session since the record-breaking attendance of exposition year will begin tomorrow at the University of California for the twentieth annual vacation curriculum held on the campus.

Between 3500 and 4000 students are expected to enroll in the 34 courses to be given on the campus by more than 200 instructors from various parts of the United States and Europe. Americanization and reconstruction will be features in the summer course of study as announced by Walter Morrison Hart, dean of the university summer school.

Professors from eighteen states are listed among the faculty members comprising the teaching staff of the session. States represented are: Arizona, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Georgia, Illinois, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Oregon, Washington, Wisconsin.

Institutions of collegiate standing represented by the summer session faculty include: Michigan State Normal College, University of Oregon, University of Washington, University of Michigan, University of Maine, University of Paris, Cornell University, Yale University, Harvard University, Hunter College of the City of New York, Missouri School of Social Economy, University of Chicago, Johns Hopkins University, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Oregon State Agricultural College.

Members of the faculty began arriving today in preparation for their work with an influx of students from all parts of the west beginning this afternoon.

RAILWAY SALE GIVEN APPROVAL

The properties of the Oakland-Antioch and Eastern Oakland and Antioch and San Ramon Valley Railroad, as planned by the committee to reorganize and consolidate the three lines, are to be sold to a corporation known as the San Francisco, Oakland and Sacramento Railroad Company, a corporation to be formed for the purpose of carrying on the business of the three lines in accordance with these plans.

The Railroad Commission in an order issued today, consented to the transfer of the properties to the new corporation as soon as it has been formed and has authorized the new company to issue the stocks and bonds necessary to carry out the reorganization plan. On the bonds there are to be not exceeding $1,000,000 bearing interest at not more than 6 per cent, $1,320,000 of 6 per cent preferred stock and $1,000,000 common.

The reorganization plan reduces the annual fixed charges of the properties from $255,000 to $117,000 per annum. The bonded debt from $6,114,000 to $1,717,000. The stock from $8,711,700 to at least $3,500,000. Ninety-two per cent of the obligations of the three roads have approved the plans of the reorganized company.

BONDS TO RUN 20 YEARS.
The new company is to have an authorized stock issue of five and a half million, divided into $4,000,000 common and $1,500,000 of preferred with an authorized bond issue of $3,000,000. The bonds are to have a life of 20 years and bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent, the rate to be determined by the market.

The plan is based on the theory that the Oakland-Antioch and Eastern Railway bonds, held as collateral will be reduced to ownership, and provides for the refunding of the indebtedness of the three companies. It recognizes no stockholders' equity in the property. For every $1000 of bonds outstanding (the three lines) and deposited under the reorganization plan, the new company will issue $200 of its bonds, $200 of its first preferred stock and $500 of common stock.

SECURED CREDITORS WITH CLAIMS
approved by the bondholders' committee are to cancel their claims and receive common stock from the treasury after common stock distribution has been made to secured creditors and bondholders. Creditors who have a first and direct line on the mortgaged property are to be paid in cash. This indebtedness will total $2,222,000.

OBJECT TO PLAN OFFERED.
Regarding the suggestion of some of the creditors J. D. White and Company and others of New York, that the plan of the new company should bear a reasonable relation to the value of the property and that the fixed charges should be well within the earnings of the property, they appear to have no valid reason why their commission should depart from such position in this case.

In a supplemental order, also issued today the commission amended a previous order issued in a note proceeding of the Oakland, Antioch and Eastern, so as to allow the company to deposit 25 cents with the First National Bank of Oakland to secure the payment of an indebtedness of $9,000,000 and the return to the treasury of the company of 17 bonds.

Many to Desert if Women Enter Pulpit
LONDON, June 27.—Whether women should be allowed to preach in the Church of England threatens to divide that organization into two camps. One, said to be supported by the bishops, is in favor of allowing women to be ordained ministers. The other, of which the English Church Union forms a substantial part, believes that entrance of women into the pulpit, however cultured and religious they might be, is the "thin end of a wedge of a woman's priesthood."

The convention next July may have to consider this question. Those opposed to the innovation assert large numbers will desert to the Roman Catholic Church if women are allowed to preach.

Hun Menace Still Lives, Warning French Scholar Gives His Views

BERKELEY, June 27.—A complete political revolution in Germany will be necessary before the rest of the world can breathe easily as to the intentions of Germany to keep world peace, according to Dr. Charles Cestre, professor of American literature and civilization at the University of Paris, who arrived in Berkeley last night from France to lecture at the University of California summer session.

"France will not put her faith in any word of mouth of the Germans and she will not be prepared to go back until peace treaty is actually signed," Cestre said. "Germany has actually signed the peace treaty," declared Dr. Cestre today at the Faculty Club on the university campus, where he is staying during his visit to Berkeley.

NOT REAL SOCIALISTS.
"We have had too many evidences of Germany's bad faith to trust her even now," said the French scholar. "Just this week the sinking of the Kiel fleet was actually signed by the German government. The world will not be safe until the present so-called socialist government is overthrown. After all, Schiedemann and his cohorts play the role of the imperialist powers and acted with them all during the war. The real socialists—people upon whom we can depend for a more democratic form of government—are to whom we can look for peace—now held down by the present ruling powers."

France has not lost her old fear of the German hordes, Dr. Cestre declared. "We are nearer to the Germans than you people of America," he says, "and consequently we know them better and distrust them more. Until the Germans admit their utter defeat and recognize that they have been the aggressors, we cannot but feel that their old arrogance will come to the surface again. At the present time the German people are being fed the old propaganda by their leaders. They are being told that they were not defeated; they are still full of the old pride of other days. The less that they are being fed on are making them more 'pig-headed' than ever before."

MUST BE CRUSHED.
"Germany is not to be safe until something has been done to crush it completely, some punishment must be meted out to the masses of the people a realization that they have been beaten and that their belief has been a decisive one."

Democratic France, Dr. Cestre says, warmly supports the League of Nations. "France is well satisfied with the peace treaty as it stands," he says. "We insist that certain guarantees be made by the peace and President Wilson and Clemenceau."

BLOODED NANCY REVERTS TO TYPE

CHICAGO, June 27.—Kipling's thoughts were far from dogs when he slapped out that immortal line, "The colonel's lady and Judy O'Grady are sisters under the skin," by the way, blood with hounds as well as winches.

The case of Nancy Lee, an original dived-in-the-wool, deep purple, and a few drops too many, from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicine containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrup," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without your or your physician's knowledge of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Shortage in Pennies Is Caused by Youth

BELEVUE, Iowa, June 21.—For some time the banks at Preston, near here, faced a shortage of pennies, and they had to secure a supply from other money centers, one seemed to know where they all went.

Cars stopped, people came, and a copper separated the law dogs. The white dog went to a hospital and Nancy Lee home to be nursed by Mrs. Marguerite Curtis, 614 Sheridan road.

Nancy slept in a perfumed bed of crepe de chine. She frisked about a specially guarded back yard. Her meals were prepared with more care than her mistress's. A policeman street, and for that Nancy did a little time in the municipal dog pound with all the common dogs.

This is the second battle Nancy Lee has staged. In 1916 she tore up a couple of Pomeranians owned by Mrs. Jennie Schneider, 419 Jackson street, and for that Nancy did a little time in the municipal dog pound with all the common dogs.

KOREANS PLEAD FOR WOMEN'S SAID

HONOLULU, June 2 (By Mail).—Declaring that the life of a nation and Christianity in Korea are at stake, the Korean Girls' League of Hawaii has addressed hundreds of letters to women's societies in the United States, England and France, asking for sympathy and praying for support in obtaining the liberation of Korea from Japan.

One of the letters, sent to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson at Paris, was written and signed by Miss Soome Choy, 19-year-old school girl, and president of the Korean Girls' League. This letter declared that Korea, a nation with a history covering forty-three centuries, is now facing a critical situation, having declared its independence, which has been denied by Japan. Choy was made that Japanese officials have forced Koreans to worship the picture of the Japanese emperor and Buddha, while the Koreans are struggling toward the light of Christianity.

The brutalities of the Germans and the massacres of the Armenians by the Turks were no worse than the measures taken by the Japanese against the Koreans, Miss Choy told Mrs. Wilson.

"Soldiers have cut off the hands of school girls for holding up manifestos, women have been stripped, beaten in the streets and then imprisoned and further tortured," the letter declared. "Bible students in Peking have been forced to carry crosses, as their masters did, and have been stripped and dragged through the streets and highways."

Son on Stand for Mother Against Sire
CHICAGO, June 27.—Frank Roth took the witness stand in behalf of his mother, Mrs. Sarah E. Roth, whose $50,000 suit against Gertrude P. Gay, her sister, for alienation of Salo V. Roth's affections is being heard by Judge C. H. Miller in the circuit court.

He testified he worked for years in the office of his father, a publisher, 186 North La Salle street. During those years, he said, Mrs. Gay came to the office two or three times a week.

"I and the rest of the employees would go home, but Mrs. Gay and my father would stay. There was a private entrance to the office from the hall. Mrs. Gay used to come in that way," he testified. "At that time my father had an income of $100 a month, but neither my mother nor I knew what became of it. He never spent it for the upkeep of the house or for clothes for her."

Don't Poison Baby.

Forty years ago almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep and a FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." OFFENSIVE

WASHINGTON, June 27.—American casualties during the forty-seven day Meuse-Argonne offensive aggregated 120,000 men, or 10 per cent of the total of 1,200,000 engaged, according to a "statistical summary of the war with Germany," prepared by Colonel Leonard P. Ayres, chief of the statistical branch of the general staff, and published by the war department.

Of every 100 American soldiers and sailors who took part in the war with Germany, the report said, "two were killed or died of disease during the period of hostilities. In the Northern army during the civil war the number was about ten. Among the other great nations in this war, between twenty and twenty-five in each 100 called to the colors were killed or died."

Best information obtainable by the general staff places the total battle deaths for all belligerents at 7,450,000, divided as follows:

Russia, 1,700,000
Germany, 1,500,000
France, 1,385,300
Great Britain, 500,000
Austria, 800,000

Total men in the army, 4,000,000
Men who went overseas, 2,086,000
Men who fought in France, 1,390,000

U. S. GOES AFTER
MEXICAN TRADE

MEXICO CITY, June 4.—(Correspondence from the Associated Press.) American business organizations are taking steps to obtain a share of Mexican import and export trade.

Competition for this business is keen, because with the signing of the armistice British, French, Japanese, Spanish, Scandinavian and German representatives became active.

The American Chamber of Commerce, representing numerous large concerns, has recently completed reorganization and W. F. Saunders, formerly secretary of the Young Men's Business League of St. Louis, Mo., has come to Mexico City to act as secretary. New quarters have been secured and an energetic campaign for more business has been mapped out.

The Chicago Chamber of Commerce has opened a branch office here, and according to newspaper accounts, the commercial clubs of El Paso, Dallas, San Antonio and Houston, Tex., contemplate having representatives in this city.

Los Angeles, San Diego, Sacramento and other California cities for some time have had trade agents busy on the west coast of Mexico with a view to diverting business in their direction.

Ambitious programs of trade expansion have also been planned by federal officials here, their attitude being reflected in the reported efforts being made to improve transportation conditions inland from the various ports of entry.

Oregon, Ill.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for an organic trouble which pulled me down until I could not put my foot to the floor and could scarcely do my work, and as I live on a small farm and raise six hundred chickens every year, it made it very hard for me.

SENATORS LINE UP TO FIGHT PARIS LEAGUE

By L. C. MARTIN, United Press Staff Correspondent. WASHINGTON, June 27.—Senator Borah made it plain today that he will not be satisfied with any plan regarding the League of Nations which he does not regard as meeting the issue of Americanism versus internationalism without equivocation.

If Chairman Hays of the Republican national committee comes out for a program of effective amendment, Borah and those who are with him against any league may be expected to support that program, it was learned.

Some of them are beginning to realize, they admitted today, that a league in some form is inevitable. Intimations were allowed to seep out from Republican circles today that fifty-one votes have been pledged against article 10 (the Monroe Doctrine clause) of the league covenant. Inasmuch as at least two Republicans—McNary and McCumber—have already announced they will vote for article 10 as it stands, the "pledged" vote must include at least four Democrats.

Hazel King Is Alleged Insane Put Under Arrest in Hospital

There is one complaint that Hazel Vallejo King cannot make today, and that is that nothing ever happens. Last Saturday she tried to end her troubles by swallowing fifteen grains of chloroform of mercury tablets, enough, the doctors say, to dispose of several people. But they wouldn't let her alone and today at the Receiving hospital, where they took her this morning on a warrant charging her with insanity, she is anything but a corpse. In fact, occasionally she is unable to restrain laughter over the allegation in the complaint that she threatened to kill on the insanity charge.

But laughter is only intermittent. Mostly she is in tears over what she considers to be the inhuman treatment of her by Detective A. J. Merens of the Berkeley police, who swore to the insanity warrant before Justice of the Peace Robert Edgar. She cannot understand the hurry, Saturday when she reached the Receiving hospital, after taking the poison, the Berkeley police notified the hospital that she was released from their custody. She arranged to go to St. Anthony's and immediately her worry disappeared and her room was filled with flowers and she was happily making plans for the future when Merens walked into the hospital today, wrapped her up in a blanket and loaded her back to the Receiving hospital.

What is back of the hurried arrest on the insanity charge?

Administration forces said there are only two Democrats at all likely to vote even for amendments—Reed and Gore.

POLOK DENIES U.S. FUNDS IN RUSSIAN BONDS

WASHINGTON, June 27.—No United States treasury funds loaned either to the Romanoff or the Kerensky governments have been used to pay interest or principal of Russian bonds sold in the United States, Acting Secretary of State Polk today told the House committee on expenditures in the State Department.

The total credits extended to the recognized Russian government by the United States aggregated $450,000,000 of which amount $187,500,000 was paid out to American contractors for war supplies under supervision of the war industries board on the treasury, the balance having been held in the United States treasury, Polk said.

$75,000,000 RUSSIAN BONDS.

The total of Russian government bonds held in this country is about $75,000,000. The interest has been paid from funds of former Russian governments on deposit in banks in this country, but these funds are now less than $1,000,000. The interest coming due next November, said Mr. Polk.

Boris Bahkmeteff, representative of the Kerensky government, had approximately $20,000,000 of Russian government funds to his credit in this country, Polk said. This was received from liquidation of war contracts made in this country by his government and with this money, he said, his government was paid. All contracts with Russia have been settled.

"I am assured," said Polk, "that in the end Russia will pay her international debts. No country has ever repudiated such debts. Even the Bolshevik government has announced its willingness to assume all Russia's international obligations."

Polk denied the present Russian propaganda to help Kolchak was funded by Russian embassy money.

FINANCED BY RUSSIANS.

He said he had assurance from Bahkmeteff to that effect and his knowledge of Bahkmeteff's funds confirmed the correctness of the assertion. He believed the propaganda was being financed by rich Russians in New York and other cities. He denied that influence of American holders of Russian bonds had been used at the State Department to keep American soldiers in Russia. American soldiers were sent to Archangel, he explained, as a military necessity to prevent that

7 SHIPS SAIL WITH 14,314 U. S. FIGHTERS

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Seven transports, bringing home 14,314 officers and men of the A. E. F., sailed from French ports on June 24, the war department announced this afternoon. They are:

Italia, with 1734, from Marseilles, for New York; cruiser Huntington, with 1873, from Brest, due at New York July 5; Vedie, with 2396, from Brest, due at Boston, July 6; Wilhelmuna, with 1801, from St. Nazaire, due at New York, July 4; Patricia, with 2771, from Brest, due at New York, July 6; El Sol, with 1824, from Bordeaux, due at New York, July 4; El Oriente, with 2008, from Bordeaux, due at New York, July 6.

ROBBERS GET $32 IN THREE EFFORTS

The rapid-fire operations of two hold-up men, who robbed three men early today, gained them very little. In all they got $32 from their three victims.

"Somewhere in Oakland," Charles Brown, a Hanford visitor, reported that he had been robbed of $22. Brown could not tell accurately the scene of the robbery. He reported that he had been held up by two masked men.

The same masked duo pointed a gun at P. Benson of 1122 Capp street, San Francisco, and relieved him of $9 according to a description to the police. Benson was held up in Jefferson park.

John Larsen of the good ship Tautou Wood, just docked, who had come off to fraternize with the landlubbers, ended his night's diversion by meeting the hold-up men in Harrison square. The robbers got one dollar, which was his last.

port from falling into the hands of Germany to be used as a submarine base after the mine barrage in the North Sea had closed other ports to the submarine.

The allies and United States provided a $20,000,000 fund for aid of the Siberian railroad, said Polk, and had nothing to do with war loans to Russia.

"There exists an obligation to keep that railroad open," he said. "First it was necessary to get the Czechs, who were pressed by the Bolsheviks, safely out of Russia. It must be kept going to get supplies into Japan. The United States' part of this expense is $5,000,000."

Polk said that when any Russian government is recognized by the United States, New York banks which have their deposits in Petrograd and Moscow banks confiscated will set up their claim for reimbursement.

$93,750 NEVADA MINE SUIT FILED

Suit involving 75,000 shares of Tonopah mining stock now selling at $1.25 a share was filed today in the Alameda county Superior Court by Thomas K. Chambers, who asks a settlement of $93,750 from George A. Kernick.

Chambers, who is an attorney, avers that he performed legal work and actual labor in developing his interest in the Broad View lode, one of the Tonopah properties, and that he then assigned his rights to Kernick, who was to incorporate for $1,000,000, including the Broad View lode and other claims.

In consideration, Chambers declares that he was to receive 75,000 shares of stock in the corporation. Kernick organized the Tonopah Flashbrook Mining Company, but has never delivered to Chambers his shares of stock, according to the lawyers' allegation.

After 9 Years of Internal Baths

Mr. Addison I. Williams writes Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell of New York as follows:

"Regarding the 'J. B. L. Cascade,' I feel it is one of the indispensable articles and should be in every home. I have not taken $10 worth of medicine since obtaining it—about 2 years ago. You can be free of biliousness and constipation, with all the ills which they produce, by an occasional internal bath. The 'J. B. L. Cascade' administers these scientifically, it being an invention of Chas. A. Tyrrell, M. D., of New York, a specialist on internal bathing. By the proper application of Nature's cure—warm water—it keeps the lower intestine free of all poisonous waste, and permits every function to work in harmony and without clogging—hence makes one consistently bright, capable and well."

The Owl Drug Co. will be glad to show and explain the 'J. B. L. Cascade' to you, and will also give you free on request an interesting and authoritative book on internal bathing, written by Dr. C. A. Tyrrell.

LIVING COST PROBE URGED IN CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Housewives' protests against the high cost of living are reaching Congress in such numbers that an investigation was being planned today. Senator George of North Dakota, chairman of the Senate agricultural committee, stated today that another probe of the packing industry would be undertaken by his committee as soon as appropriation bills are out of the way.

The Kendrick bill, providing for government regulation of the packers, will be made the vehicle for the investigation, which will be broad in its scope and include not only an inquiry into the cost of meats, but will include other foodstuffs. The Kenyon bill, which is also before Congress, provides for regulation of large firms dealing in foodstuffs, and hearings on this bill will be in the nature of a general probe of food costs.

There is a movement throughout the country among housewives for government steps to reduce living costs is evident from the large number of protests being received each day by the members of Congress. Senators and Representatives are flooded with letters asking that an investigation be made and these letters have come in such numbers that their pressure is being felt.

The proposed investigation will extend not only to the large packing firms which have been investigated before by Congress and other governmental departments, but will also include some of the smaller firms.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Great Gas, Sourness and Pain—How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, flatulence, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm by laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any drugstore a few ounces of Bismuth Magnesia and take a spoonful in a quart of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness or pain. Bismuth Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, is expensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Advertisement.

To the Public:
In appreciation of the wonderful relief which Dr. Shew's Herbs has given me, I gladly write about this letter of recommendation.

I have the history of my case I have to go back with rheumatism which was so severe that my limbs were very painful and I took various remedies, but found no relief. I finally heard of the remarkable cures of the Chinese herbs, so I went to Dr. Shew for herb treatment. Not only was my rheumatism completely healed after taking Dr. Shew's treatment for only two months, but my whole constitution has been restored. I feel much stronger and better now. I would be glad to give further details of my case to anyone who desires them.

Respectfully,

Proper Thing Now Is to Peel Off Soiled Skin

Those who abhor sticky, greasy, shiny, streaked complexions should realize that avoid creams, powders and rouges during the heated days. There's no need for them, anyway, since the virtues of mercurized wax have become known. No amount of perspiration will produce any evidence that you've been using the wax. As it is applied at bedtime and washed off in the morning, the complexion never looks like a make-up. Mercurized wax gradually takes off a bad complexion, instead of adding anything to make it worse. It has none of the disadvantages of cosmetics and accomplishes much more in keeping the complexion beautiful, white, healthy and youthful, free from freckles and other blemishes. Just get an ounce of it at your drugstore and see what a few days' treatment will do. Use like cold cream.—Advertisement.

For Bad Breath

FOLEY CATHARTIC TABLETS

They cause no griping or nausea. Cleanse the bowels, sweeten the stomach and benefit the liver. Never disappoint.

Two Hundred Club Workers, Soldiers and Sailors Attend Novel Wedding Reception

Members of novel wedding party and their hostesses at the Oakland Defenders' Club last evening, where a reception for several hundred guests was held in honor of the bridal couple. Members of the bridal party (left to right) are MADAME ELSIE, bridesmaid; MRS. EUGENE WESLEY NORTON, bride; REV. J. H. PIERCE, who performed the ceremony; EUGENE WESLEY NORTON and EUGENE PERRY, who served as best man.

ANARCHIST PLOT TO ASSASSINATE SPANISH RULER

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Rumors of an anarchistic plot to assassinate King Alfonso of Spain during the procession accompanying the re-opening of the Cortes Tuesday was responsible for the sudden change of the scene of the ceremony from the Chamber of Deputies, where it usually is held, to the Senate house adjoining the palace. The State department was informed today in official despatches from Madrid. The anarchist plan was said to have been to attack the king while he was en route from the palace to the Chamber of Deputies.

TEACHERS' UNION STRIKERS BARRED

SAN DIEGO, July 27.—"The teachers' organization, recently formed by the public school teachers of San Diego, may eventually affiliate with the American Federation of Labor, but it can never call a strike, or make demands, as do other unions of the federation," is the statement of Miss Miriam A. Besley, president of the Teachers' Association and the head of the educational department of the State Normal school.

Miss Besley recently attracted attention when she appeared before a committee of San Diego city telephone operators and urged them to organize, and cited the organization of the school teachers as an instance of the necessity of organization.

"The words 'strike' and 'demand' are not allowed in any teachers' association affiliated with the American Federation of Labor," Miss Besley explained, "because the members are the teachers of the children of the country. They are servants of the state, and can neither make demands nor call strikes."

The organization, which held its first election for officers March 7, is called "The San Diego City Teachers' Association." Only lay teachers are admitted as members, all principals, vice-principals or supervisors, or any who rate teachers, being excluded. This is for the reason, Miss Besley stated, that the organization must be one in which there will be no prejudiced opinion, and to give freedom to the members in its operation.

It was formed, she stated, "to develop a morale of its own, and when it has grown and developed to the point where it can give strength and help to a national organization, it will probably affiliate with the American Federation of Labor."

BOMB ARREST IS MADE IN MANILA

MANILA, P. I., June 27.—Secretary Simeon of the Philippine Labor Congress, has been arrested here on a charge of murder in connection with the death of two persons and the injury of five others as the result of an attempt to blow up a street car with a bomb here last Monday.

According to the authorities, the man who threw the bomb at the car was taken into custody and has confessed that Simeon instigated the plot and delivered the bomb to him. One of the victims of the blast died today, bringing the number of fatalities to two. Two of the injured were American sailors.

A street car strike has been in progress here more than one week, and the members of the constabulary say the man who threw the bomb was a striking street car worker.

Crisanto Evangelista, a member of the Labor party, said to be a protégé of Manuel Quezon, a member of Philippine mission to Washington, has been charged with sedition for making a speech in which it is alleged, he advocated violence.

Eugene Norton and Jeanette Rawlinson Are United by "Marrying Parson"

The Defenders' Club party, attended by about 200 club workers, soldiers, sailors and assistant hostesses, last evening, was an innovation. It was a wedding reception, the first that Miss Clara Taft, chairman, and her co-workers have given. The motif for the big party was Eugene Wesley Norton, formerly of the United States navy, a Salt Lake boy and one of the "reluctants" during war days. Young Norton claimed as his bride last evening Miss Jeanette Rawlinson. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. Pierce, well known as the "marrying parson."

Madame Elsie served as bridesmaid and Eugene Perry was best man for the bridegroom.

The couple were later guests at the Defenders' Club. There was a wedding supper, the two huge wedding cakes being the gift of local merchants.

A kitchen shower was the feature of the evening, the event taking place in the ballroom. The utensils were all new, and the bride and groom were concealed in a clothes closet presented by little Horace Greer, nephew of Mrs. John Macdonald, an active worker in the War Camp Community Service.

Among the hostesses were: Mrs. Howard W. Gray, Mrs. John Van Gundy, Mrs. Lillian Brown Everts, Mrs. D. W. Starrett, Mrs. Randall Dorton, Mrs. Robert Glenn, Mrs. Herbert Bennett, Mrs. Herman Brouwer, Miss Harriett Morgan, Miss Florine Brown, Miss Millan Jones, and many others.

NARCOTIC TRAFFIC WITNESS IN JAIL

Because of the charge made in the federal court in San Francisco yesterday by Assistant United States Attorney C. F. Tramutole that a witness against the "Bassity ring" alleged traffickers in illicit drugs, is not safe in confinement in the San Francisco jail, Edward Emerson, arrested during a drug raid on Bassity's saloon Wednesday, spent last night in the Alameda county jail, on order of Federal Judge E. S. Farrington.

Later today he will be before the grand jury in San Francisco. Evidence discovered in the raid, when narcotics valued at $2000 were taken, will be laid before the investigators today.

The cases of J. W. Bassity and Joseph Clancy were called in court yesterday, but upon the announcement that indictments are expected to be returned, the hearing was continued. Emerson, a drug user, asked to be allowed to go on his own recognizance, but Tramutole objected and insisted upon detaining him where he could be secured to give testimony.

He said:

"No person who might possibly be a witness against the Bassity ring is safe in this city. I am insisting that Emerson be taken to the Alameda county jail tonight so that we will be sure that we will have him for the grand jury in the morning."

"Indictments will be returned Friday and we will insist on an early trial. The conviction of the men who for years have contributed to the ruin of hundreds of drug addicts in this section will have a marked effect on the illicit traffic throughout the west."

BRONCBUSTERS LURE THROUGHS TO BIG RODEO

SALINAS, June 27.—Everybody's coming to the rodeo, it seems. They're riding here in fine limousines and on the backs of bucking broncos. They're arriving in trailers and even by foot. But they're coming. That's the main thing.

And excitement awaits them, for never in the history of rodeos have there been more thrilling feats of horsemanship, more hairbreadth escapes for the reckless riders, more nerve exhibitions of bull baiting.

Two thousand automobiles parked in the enclosures at one time—that is the rodeo record this year. Stockmen yesterday drew particularly large crowds.

The long horse in the boxes or in the field were James Dunne of Gilroy, Howard Tilton, William Roche of Los Angeles, the Lynches of Lynch station, Joseph Ayer of Sargent station, Mrs. Thompson and the Misses Kelly of Watsonville, J. A. Trescony of San Lucas, Mrs. and Ed Green, the Matthews' family, Charles Harry and Jim Bardin, the biggest catch and land men in the Salinas valley, D. L. Somavilla, the Zabala family, old Spanish landholders and cattlemen; F. B. Lauritzen and Mrs. Lauritzen, who is president of the Civic club of Salinas; Lewis Pierce of Susan, Charles Puyoe of the State board of agriculture, Charles M. Hawkins of the Pacheco ranch at Hollister, Thomas Field of Monterey and a host of others.

RESULT IN DOUBT IN NORTH DAKOTA

FARGO, N. D., June 27.—With the vote of the larger cities apparently against the seven Non-Partisan League laws submitted to the North Dakota voters for a referendum ballot, interest centered today in the returns from the rural districts. Four hundred and twenty-seven precincts out of 2557 precincts in the state reported this morning, giving 12,040 votes for the Non-Partisan League laws and 21,586 votes against the laws. This is largely a city vote and represents about one-fourth of the total vote cast.

The rural vote is running at least two to one for the league laws, the newspapers and for a commission to control state-owned industries. These measures are regarded as the keystone of the industrial program of the Non-Partisan League.

Chief among the measures involved are bills providing for official newspapers and for a commission to control state-owned industries. These measures are regarded as the keystone of the industrial program of the Non-Partisan League.

Berkeley to Vote On Park Purchase

BERKELEY, June 26.—Tuesday, September 16, was today set by the Berkeley city council as the date for a special referendum election on the purchase of lands adjoining Live Oak Park in North Berkeley.

The council's action follows the filing of a referendum petition bearing 1128 names protesting the proposed purchase. City Clerk A. G. Briggs reported to the council this morning that a verification of the names showed a total of 298 to legal voters of the city. As but 908 names were required to place the issue before the electors the council called the requested election.

U. S. Sells 19 New Ships at High Price

Shipping firms of San Francisco Bay are evidencing much interest in the announcement today by Chairman E. S. Hurley of the shipping board that nineteen of the new steel ships have been sold. The price at which the transfer was made is said to indicate that the private companies expect no reduction in the cost of steamers for some time.

The price ranged from $210 to $225 per ton, according to Hurley. The names of the purchasers and of the vessels sold were not made public.

Six of the ships, sold to one firm, brought the top notch price of $225 a ton. These were all built on the Pacific Coast. Three ships built on the Atlantic brought only $210 a ton.

Pictures Are Missing, Trial Halts Hearing Awaits Return of Art

The H. H. Schmidt-David Russell picture trial before Judge T. W. Harris suddenly went "up in the air" yesterday afternoon when it was discovered that the pictures in controversy, about twenty canvases done by Russell, the Oakland artist, were not available for the exhibit that was promised all along during the trial to change the courtroom into an art gallery. Schmidt, suing for possession of the paintings, admitted that after he recovered custody of them, on a replevin suit, he sent them back east. The case was continued to await their return.

Judge Harris took the plaintiff to task for sending the pictures out of the jurisdiction of the court, but the witness replied that he sent them away because they were his to do as he thinks best to do with them.

"What are we consuming all this time about if it is not to determine whom the pictures belong to?" asked the judge, and the question was not objected to as irrelevant and incompetent and immaterial. Schmidt promised to have them returned, when artists will parade through the courtroom and squint at them and say whether they are wonderful or not.

It was a pathetic moment when an attorney, trying to establish a value for the canvases, asked the painter if there "is more than one coat of paint on them," and how much the paint is worth.

"On some of them there are fifty or a hundred coats," he said sadly. "I have worked for years on them, with intermissions sufficiently long to allow them to continually cure so they will not break or crack. The value of the paint on them and the canvases in them does not measure their value, any more than the worth of a human soul can be valued by its weight."

The spirits that were in the courtroom during the session, according to Mrs. Ella M. Miller, a witness for Russell, became despondent and fled, so little appreciation did the old provisions of the law appear to have for the feelings of an artist.

Whether or not Mrs. Miller and her daughter, Mrs. Edith E. Black McLean, spiritualists, have any financial interest in the controversy does not appear on the face of things. The records show that against these two

About Digestion.

Digestion begins in the mouth. The food should be thoroughly masticated and insalivated before it is swallowed. When this is habitually neglected stomach trouble is almost sure to follow. If you now have indigestion eat no beef or veal and sparingly of other meats, masticate your food thoroughly and you may recover without taking any medicine. If your bowels are constipated take Chamberlain's Tablets. They not only cause a gentle movement of the bowels but aid digestion and strengthen the stomach. For sale by Osgood Bros. $5,000,000 FOR ARMY CAMP SITES

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The war department apparently is not to be blocked in its determination to acquire camp sites and artillery proving grounds by a Congress opposed to the army plans. While Congress has delayed action on legislation, clipping authority and pruning appropriations, army officials are buying the land, congressmen said today.

Representative Luther W. Mott of New York said he had been informed that the war department has paid out during the past two weeks $5,000,000 for the purchase of Camp Lee, Taylor, Pike, Sherman and Travis.

She Asks for Kiss, But Fails to Get It

LONDON, June 27.—Commander G. Locker-Lampson, who went into Russia with a consignment of armoured cars, found English spoken there.

A charming visitor at one house where he stopped seemed anxious to display her knowledge of his mother tongue. After some excited waiting for an opening in the conversation she managed to break in with all the English she knew.

It was: "Kiss me quick!"

The commander told the United Russian Society that he didn't.

BOY SCOUTS IN CAMP JOYOUS

ALAMEDA, June 27.—The Alameda Boy Scouts are having a royal time in Lake county at their summer camp. The Scouts left Alameda last Saturday. A letter to THE TRIBUNE from the Scouts press correspondent read:

"CAMP STEPHENS, June 25.—Alameda Boy Scouts camp in Lake county is all that at the moment, weather perfect, (a bit of rain, but low), place excellent, fine water and interesting hikes.

The two trucks loaded with the Scouts arrived in camp at 6:30 after a most delightful ride through Solano and Napa counties. Quartermaster E. H. Levy had supper ready to which the Scouts did ample justice. Taps at 10 P. M. sent two companies of happy youths to dream of bears and mountains and all sorts of thrilling things. Reveille at 6:30 Sunday morning called them to a new life, that of the military. Ten minutes of calisthenics, then a wash and a cleaning of teeth that would have been a comfort to fond mothers could they have seen their boys. Then a breakfast that meant oceans of energy. The day was all too short—even to the kitchen police.

"Through the long, cool hours of the night the Scouts guarded camp, each one called to the work considering himself doubly fortunate.

"The first visitors to the camp were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Merharts, who were pleased with the way the boys were cared for. Mr. and Mrs. Sefton of Alameda also called.

The following is the menu for Sunday:

"Breakfast—Bacon and eggs, hot rolls, minced brown potatoes, stewed prunes, coffee, chocolate.

"Dinner—Soup, Lulluene, entree, French pot roast, mashed potatoes, green peas a la cream, dessert, chocolate pudding, ice cream and cakes; beverages, milk, tea.

"Supper—Cold roast beef, potato salad, Boston baked beans, cakes, tea, milk."

'OLD DOCK' COOK OF POLE FAME IS OIL MAGNATE

The world whirled sadly on and yesterday was yesterday and today is today; headed hickety split for tomorrow!

But there is progress. It can be proved.

Old "Doc" Cook has made a discovery. He has "found" oil fields in Texas and is now an oil king.

He may not have been the "early bird" at the North Pole, but it's mighty certain he's an "early" one down in Texas.

The oil company has sent forth prospectuses, and they contain this note: "Officers of the company: Dr. Frederick Cook, president, Arctic explorer."

No one can put the oil company in the Ananias ranks for calling Dr. Cook an explorer, though it was found to cause a discussion if it referred to him as the discoverer of the North Pole.

The noted explorer has sunk from a high to a pretty low note in recent months in the matter of publicity, but now that he's an oil magnate he may be expected to come back.

DEMAND FOR BOTTLE TOPS. WEBSTER CITY, Iowa, June 27.—They're wondering whether everyone's making out or whether it's a preparation for the big third of July party, one here sold $88 bottle tops in two days.

RECORD PRICE FOR WOOL. CONSUMERS' Org., June 27.—Three hundred thousand pounds of wool was sold at prices ranging from 50 to 52 3/4 cents here today. One clip of 21,000 pounds brought 53 3/4 cents, the highest price ever paid in this state.

If you saw it in THE TRIBUNE, tell them so. Thank you.

FRIDAY, JUNE 27, 1919.

A CODE FOR NATIONS.

Paris expects the German delegates selected to sign the peace treaty to arrive Saturday morning, in which case the attaching of Germany's signature to the agreement for the settlement of the war will take place Saturday afternoon. There will be much solemn display at this ceremony. Representatives of some thirty governments will be present in the Hall of Mirrors at Versailles to witness the act by which Germany undertakes to right the wrongs she has inflicted upon the world. The scene will be impressive in the extreme.

The student of history, although he may be far away from Versailles, may envision the many significant changes in the political map of the world the treaty makes and commemorates. By its provisions national boundaries have been changed; new states have been created; states previously created out of the conflict have been recognized; other states have ceased to exist; monarchies have fallen; dynasties that have ruled Europe for centuries by plot and counterplot have been cast out of power.

Again moral concepts have been vindicated and other moral concepts have been repudiated and penalized. The doctrine that right is might, that there is such a thing as the universal rights of man, has been upheld—at a terrible cost. The Teutonic concepts that might is right, that necessity knows no law, that compulsion is justified to serve the ambitions of state, whether those ambitions are right or wrong, which Germany attempted to impose upon the world, at a terrible cost, have been rejected. Law has been upheld as a sacred thing and its violators must accept punishment.

The peace agreement is destined to answer many purposes. It is history. It is the fundamental law, the foundation, of several new states and governments. It is a precedent and the law for determining the character of numerous acts of nations dealing with each other. It is an article in the laws and rules of warfare than which no other is of comparable importance. In the fulfillment of the treaty conditions crimes and lawful acts of war will be segregated and the crimes punished as such. The judgment of the civilized world is behind these conditions and they will stand as guides for government throughout the future centuries.

War will always be harsh and destructive. But it will be a long time before a nation resorts to Germanic barbarities. Hostilities will in future be waged between the combatant armed forces of governments. Ruthless assassination, cruelty and enslavement of the unarmed, helpless civilian populations, wanton destruction of homes and property, for the purpose of destroying the soul of an adversary people, is not likely again to be attempted.

It is these things, the establishment of the fact that peoples have rights and a place in human relations which governments shall not ignore, which give the peace agreement a permanent significance. Germany may evade for a while some of the provisions; she may regard the treaty as a scrap of paper to the full extent of her ability to get away with that attitude, but justice has been upheld. And justice demands punishment for crimes, whether committed by a nation or by an individual.

MEXICO'S FOREIGN TRADE.

According to official Mexican statistics forwarded to Washington by Vice Consul Cunningham at Mexico City, the value of products sold abroad by Mexico during 1918 was 357,000,000 pesos. The principal buyer was, of course, Mexico's northern neighbor. The United States purchased goods valued at 350,071,345.24 pesos, or approximately 95 per cent of the total of Mexico's exports. Of European nations, England occupies the first place as a buyer, with a total of 4,372,626 pesos, while France imported only 6,015 pesos' worth of merchandise. Aside from these two European countries, the only other one which engaged in trade with Mexico to any extent was Spain, purchasing 1,655,111.40 pesos' worth of products. The difference in the volume of exports to France and Spain may be accounted for in the fact that not a single vessel of the former nation called at a Mexican port for ordinary merchandise, while the Spanish lines, with some exceptions, maintained their regular services in 1918.

These statistics produce no surprise. They merely emphasize the fact that the commercial and industrial affairs of Mexico are vitally dependent upon relations with the United States. That the present government of Mexico has done so little to improve those relations and to expand the volume of trade between the two countries is one of the most serious offenses of President Carranza against his own people.

RAILROAD RATES.

Every indication points to further increases in railroad rates. The federal director-general of railroads, a railroad man by previous occupation, says higher rates are necessary; other railroad men are striving for an increase. Under government operation the finances of the railroads are unmarked each month by huge deficits. In January, 1919, the operating expenses of the railroads of the country were approximately $11,500,000 a day; in 1911 they were $5,250,000 a day. This is an increase in expenses of $6,050,000 daily, or considerably more than 100 per cent.

Increases in wages have accounted for a very large portion of the increased operating costs; increase in material for another portion. But unquestionably a large portion should also be credited to bad management, unnecessary expenditures and the methods of bookkeeping.

It is difficult, at present impossible, to estimate the amount of unnecessary cost charges. That will come later, when the roads are turned back to private operation. But the question of increased rates is a very important present question.

The public understands that a part of the increases already ordered have been necessary and that there may be necessity for further increase. But the public is firmly of the opinion that the increases should not be ordered out of the arbitrary authority of the director-general of railroads. Rates should be justified by facts, examined and established before the rates are ordered. And the basis of higher rates should be certified by a non-political and non-railroad agency.

There is now pending in Congress a bill providing that the power to adjust rail rates shall immediately be restored to the Interstate Commerce Commission. At present the rate schedule may be promulgated by the director-general of railroads, the higher charges levied and collected without interference from any source. This procedure is fundamentally wrong. There was an excuse for the extraordinary authority in war time, but that justifying emergency has passed.

Congress may restore the rate-fixing power to the Interstate Commerce Commission in advance of its disposal of the question of restoring the railroads to their private owners. Then the people who pay the rates will at least have a place where they may lay their complaints, protests and informative data.

And the Interstate Commerce Commission will at least make a show of adjusting rates according to the conditions of traffic in each rail system and not for the exclusive object of providing revenue to meet expenses regardless of how extravagantly and recklessly those expenses may be incurred.

Philip Scheidemann once indulged in a mild-mannered criticism of Herr von Bethmann-Hollweg for referring to the agreement to preserve the neutrality of Belgium as a "scrap of paper." But now Scheidemann's paper, Vorwaerts, organ of the majority Socialists, refers to the treaty just concluded, a much more important document, as a "scrap of paper." Given sufficient time and the Hun will unmask himself.

Reports from Amroongen are to the effect that the kaiser is not pleased at the accepted peace conditions providing for his surrender to the Allied governments for trial on a supreme offense against civilization. Good! It was hoped the kaiser would not be moved to jubilation when he received the news.

A CUP OF COFFEE.

A correspondent asks today for the exact facts in the coffee situation. We wish we knew them. From one source one hears that there is a large surplus stock and that the advance in price is due to profiteering. From another one hears that there has been a crop failure in Brazil, that a great European buying campaign has opened since the armistice was signed and will, it is expected, increase greatly when the long deprived central powers begin drinking coffee again. One also hears that there is a scarcity of ocean tonnage which has its effect on stocks in this country.

Coffee that sold at retail for 40 cents during the war now sells for 60. At that, the retail price has not kept pace with the wholesale price. It is probably small comfort to the average householder to inform him that this increase means an additional outlay of 20 to 40 cents a month. But perhaps he will join us in expressing sympathy for the man who must eat at the restaurants. The 5-cent cup of coffee which prevailed in the popular eating place is now hard to find. Generally the cup of coffee has gone up to 7 to 10 cents.

Whereas the householder whose family consumes say six cups of coffee daily gets off with an added monthly expense of about 40 cents the individual who partakes of two cups of coffee daily in the restaurant finds his living expenses increased $2. The actual value of the coffee at 60 cents a pound in a cup of infusion is probably considerably less than 2 cents. One wholesaler puts it at 1 1/2 cents. We shall not attempt to figure out the cost of cream, sugar, gas, breakage, service and overhead and determine the profit in a 10-cent cup of coffee. We have a different moral in mind. If the bachelor does not like it he has two ways out. He can swear off or start a household of his own.—Portland Oregonian.

It is announced that the Chinese of the State are to organize for the purpose of arousing patriotic sentiment in favor of the Chinese republic. A little more organizing is needed in arousing patriotic sentiment in favor of the American republic at this particular time.

The leasing of Berkeley tidelands gave courage to the holders of waterfront property with the result that in one day over $5000 was paid into the city treasury of the College City on account of delinquent taxes, to the joy of proponents of the lease. SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

Hottest day of the year sizzled over the interior of southern California yesterday and the thermometer here went to 103 degrees, said official report of Dr. A. K. Johnson. The mercury climbed from 48 degrees from early morning until the peak of the heat during the afternoon, a climb of 55 degrees. The evening cooled off, however, in good shape and the night was pleasant.—San Bernardino News.

Montague Macchell, one of the divinely students of the School of Antiquity at Point Loma, spoke at the Theosophical services at the Isis theater yesterday morning on "The Hindu Yoga System of Education, a Vital Factor in the Building Up of the World." He said in part: "The question is, Are we going to rebuild the nations on the same old lines, or are we going to realize that an absolutely new note must be struck? It is unwise to draw comparisons, but this may be asked, Does modern science and modern medicine, for instance, in the true sense of the word? If so, then why are our problems of insanity, crime and disease, and why these tremendous and awful wars?"—San Diego Union.

The Ambrosia Grill, which was opened on South Coast about one year ago and has since been operated by the Barbis boys, will close tonight, according to announcement made today by the senior member of the firm, Mike Barbis, who stated that lack of competent help is the reason for closing up the classy eating place.—Visalia Times.

A lady who returned the other day from a visit to a large city where she did some shopping, was giving her impressions of the kind of service she got in the stores of the big town. She spoke particularly of one place where she felt she had very poor attention. She believed the reason to be that she was not dressed stylishly enough. She had on a shirt waist and skirt of refined appearance and excellent quality. But as she failed to present herself in the latest type gown, the clerks as she believed were discourteous and inattentive.—Richmond News.

The one great beneficial proposition now confronting the people of Modesto and Turlock irrigation districts is the construction of the Don Pedro dam. The farmers there realize as never before the absolute necessity of providing more storage water. By the first of July there will be no more water for irrigation. Last year it was thought that the limit had been reached as far as shortage of water was concerned, but this year the irrigation season will be at least three weeks shorter than last year. The only remedy is the building of Don Pedro dam. Modesto News.

THEY WORRY NOT

"Who will be the mandatory of the cone-dwellers of Asia Minor, or will this curious people remain a part of dwindling Turkey?"

"That question," says a bulletin from the National Geographic Society, "is another of the curious ramifications of the treaty, whose scope extends even to such minutia as the restoration of the skull of the mysterious Okwawa."

"These cone-dwellers, technically known as the Troglodytes of Cappadocia, are harnessed not at all by the housing problem, for they live in nature-made apartment houses, fashioned by trickling streams and volcanic violence."

"Nor is it likely that they are concerned in the least about their political fate, for, though they inhabit what is characterized as the 'cradle of civilization' they are more primitive in some particulars than the most benighted tribes of Africa or the South Pacific."

The bulletin quotes from a communication of J. R. Stillington Sterrett, who describes the Cappadocians as follows:

"Residing within a stone's throw, metaphorically speaking, of the wonderful civilization which flourished on the banks of the Nile 5000 years ago; of the mighty Kingdoms of Assyria and Babylonia which arose in the valleys of the Euphrates and the Tigris, their power and splendor dazzling the world 2000 years before the Christian era; and at the very threshold of ancient Greece, with its unrivaled culture and political advancement, the Troglodytes of Cappadocia still retain to this day the same attitude of mind as that which obtained in the stone age, when there was no such thing as human society, but every man was his own law and the mortal enemy of his neighbor."

"The only difference between the society of these Troglodytes and that of primitive man consists in this, that primitive man did not brook the presence of any other man, while here the isolation of the clan takes the place of the isolation of the individual."

"The caves, cones and cliff dwellings of the Cappadocian Troglodytes of both ancient and modern times are to be found in greatest number in the shadow of Asia Minor's loftiest peak, snow-clad Mt. Ararat (called by the Turks Arjais Dagh), an extinct volcano whose eruption in the dim past laid the foundations and supplied the material for these remarkable habitations, while the Halye river of the ancients (now known as Kizil Irmak) in succeeding centuries became their tireless architect."

"The practice of living in caves, in cliffs, or in excavated cavities in the open plain is to be traced to a state of society which we of today have some difficulty in depicting to ourselves. And yet the central thought of the Troglodytic habit is the basic principle upon which ancient civilization was founded."

"That basic thought, which is wholly antagonistic to our modern conceptions of society, whether we have in mind the community of a country-side, a village, a town, or a state; because, where absolute isolation is the dominant obsession of a man, there can be, strictly speaking, no such thing as a united state."

"They have sought and found for themselves complete isolation. They seem to have none of the instincts of agricultural man and they are wholly inhospitable."

"The entrances to their dwellings are high up in the almost perpendicular walls of the cliffs, and they are reached solely by means of long poles, which are light enough to be drawn up when the lord of the den and his family are safely housed. And when housed they really are safe from intrusion, for it would require a host to force an entrance against the will of the family."

"One ancient writer tells us that some Troglodytes made a practice of killing all those who were not in first-rate physical condition, on the ground that a man who cannot earn his own living has no right to live; and when one sees these dwellings, one can imagine still another reason for killing off the aged and the infirm—because of their inability to get in or out of the house."

HINDU SPURNS KNIGHTHOOD.

LONDON.—Abanindra Nath Tagore, the Hindu painter and writer who was knighted recently, asked the other day that he be relieved of his knighthood, as a protest against British methods of repression in the Punjab disturbances. "The time has come when badges of honor make one's shame glaring," wrote Tagore. "I wish to stand shorn by the side of my countrymen."—Detroit News.

SAME OLD HUMAN NATURE.

The transactions of brokers in Wall street in the last year of the Civil war, ended June 30, 1865, reached a total of $6,000,000,000, according to the New York Tribune of October 14 of that year. Each of nine firms carried on a business in excess of $100,000,000. Gamblers passed from one board to another until midnight "like a pack of howling dervishes." It was "not business," said the New York Herald; "it was frenzy. The tales of the petroleum princes had set people crazy." The contractors of the war and the men made rich by oil, said the Philadelphia Ledger, were indulging in so ostentatious a display of their wealth that it tended to unsettle all the usual ideas about money won by industry. "A spirit of gambling" was "rife in the land." The glitter of jewels at the opera created amazement. One lady "displayed enough precious stones to furnish a jeweler's window in Broadway."

The parallel is very curious. Recent trading on the Stock Exchange has been the greatest in its history. There have just been more than forty-five successive days in which more than a million shares were traded in, surpassing the previous record of forty-four established in the great speculation of 1901. The feature of this speculation has been the trading in oil shares. And, according to a recent item appearing on our business page, "rich oil promoters and speculators from the oil camps of the southwest have been heavy buyers of diamonds in recent weeks, and their purchases have been partly responsible for clearing the local market of extra-sized stones."—New York Tribune.

A PRACTICAL ILLUSTRATION.

If the proposed League of Nations were in operation Secretary of War Baker could not send United States troops across the border into Mexico to protect American property and preserve order without first referring the matter to the league through its headquarters at Geneva, Switzerland.—New York Herald.

4 ACCUSED OF CONSPIRACY TO AID NORTHCOTT

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—New evidence, came to light since the testimony in the trial of Dr. Ephraim Northcott, convicted yesterday of murdering Inez Elizabeth Reed, a nurse, will be used in reading indictments as accessories in the crime of Mrs. Frances Cronin and Mrs. Marion Ayres, nurses, today announced District Attorney Swart and Captain of Detectives Matheson of San Francisco.

A special session of the Alameda county grand jury will be called for the purpose, it was stated, after Dr. Northcott is sentenced Monday.

Two persons besides the nurses are reported to be involved in the act the authorities are drawing about all those alleged to have had a guilty knowledge of the physician's crime, who are alleged to have committed perjury in an attempt to shield him. They are Allan E. Noreen, former traffic policeman in San Francisco, fiancé of Mrs. Cronin, and Mrs. Josie Brennan, mother of Mrs. Cronin.

OFFICERS HUNT NOREEN.—Noreen is now sought on a warrant charging him with issuing bad checks. It is alleged by the police of San Francisco, who investigated and whose report resulted in his suspension from the police force, that Noreen knows more about Miss Reed's death than any one but Mrs. Cronin and Dr. Northcott.

DR. NORTHCOTT IS ALSO DECLARED to have deliberately perjured himself by saying she was in the San Mateo house with Mrs. Cronin and Mrs. Ayres at the time the operation was performed, but the authorities insist that no charge will be filed against her.

MISGUIDED ATTEMPT.—"It was the misguided attempt of a good woman," said Captain Matheson.

"The new evidence against Mrs. Cronin and Mrs. Ayres was not presented at Dr. Northcott's trial, but without it we would expect indictments against these two women on the testimony which they gave Wednesday in Dr. Northcott's defense. In the meantime both of the nurses will be kept under surveillance."

MRS. AYRES INVAILED.—Mrs. Cronin was the office nurse for Dr. Northcott, the authorities say, and is alleged to have been at the physician's home on Highland avenue in San Mateo at the time of the operation on Miss Reed.

Mrs. Ayres is said to have been there at the same time.

Mrs. Brennan, the mother of Mrs. Cronin, has admitted being with her daughter at the San Mateo house on a party about the time of the fatal operation on the army nurse and she may also be brought into the new charges.

Noreen is the fiancé of Mrs. Cronin, and the prosecuting authorities, in the investigation of the Reed case, frequently mentioned him as the driver of the death car that carried the nurse's body from San Mateo to the gulch on the Crystal Springs road, where it was discovered. He was suspended from the police force as a result of his admission that he had visited Dr. Northcott's San Mateo home.

Stoically, Dr. Northcott met the jury's verdict yesterday, which was reached after two hours and five minutes' deliberation. His wife, however, cried aloud and fell in a dead faint after she had been carried from the courtroom.

Although Judge Buck ordered that Dr. Northcott might be released on bail pending appeal, his attorneys surrendered him to Sheriff Sheehan of San Mateo county, to be placed in the Redwood City prison.

DODGES WAITING OFFICER.—This was done to avoid service of a warrant charging Dr. Northcott with murder in the first degree for an alleged illegal operation on Miss Eleanor Anderson of San Francisco. Detective Sergeant George Gallagher of San Francisco was waiting in the courtroom to serve the warrant if the accused physician should be released.

The seven women on the jury stood out for conviction from the first, according to the juror's story of their deliberations. Several bul-

DANIELS WILL CHOOSE NAVAL SITE ON BAY

Commandants of navy yards and stations on the Pacific coast were directed by Secretary Daniels from Washington today to make surveys of their stations so as to be ready when he reaches the west coast to submit recommendations for extensions and improvements necessary to care for the new Pacific fleet. The secretary expects to arrive early in August with the fleet, which will leave Hampton Roads between July 15 and 20.

Secretary Daniels will inspect the naval facilities in the Panama canal zone while en route. He will spend about two weeks visiting the navy yards and stations at San Diego, San Francisco, Puget Sound and other points and will submit his recommendations to Congress after his return.

Naval officers said today one of the most pressing needs is a dry-dock at San Francisco capable of accommodating the largest warships. Such a basin has been constructed by a private concern under a guarantee of a certain amount of naval revenue each year. Daniels will inspect this dock and also will confer with naval officers on the subject of the contemplated new haval base on San Francisco bay.

THREE SITES PROPOSED.—Three sites for the proposed new haval base on San Francisco bay have been inspected by two bodies having been empowered by Congress to make recommendations. One of these, the Helm commission, has recommended that the Alameda site be selected. The two other sites are at Hunters' Point, San Francisco, and at Richmond.

When this country entered the war activities toward beginning work ceased, but in March last nine members of the House naval affairs committee made an inspection of the various sites. The purpose of their visit was announced as being an investigation of the recommendation made by the commission headed by Rear Admiral James T. Helm. Preliminary survey work has been done on the Alameda site. The Helm report provided for two naval bases on the Pacific coast, one on San Francisco bay and the other on Puget Sound.

lots were taken, but the firm stand taken by the women won in the end.

District Attorney Swart's closing argument had a noticeable effect on the jury when he said: "We ask that you say to the women slayers of San Francisco that they shall not desecrate the fair ravines of San Mateo with the blood of the victims of their crimes."

Dr. Northcott will come before Judge Buck Monday for sentence. The day was set first for next Thursday, until it was pointed out that the law requires sentence to be given within five days after conviction.

The Jingles in The Headlines

Tomorrow afternoon, we're told, the treaty will be signed, and delegates from allied states will all be wind and dine; but as the cork is being uncorked, and the wine is being poured, we are told, no Hun envoy will there enjoy the wine when it is red.

Old China now will promptly sign, and hope for better days, and try to see the world through a haze; she's going to get her Shantung back, when time has raised the ban, but she will keep her powder dry and slyly watch Japan.

3 CRIMES LAD TO BRACKET BY U. S. JURY

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Charged with embezzlement of government funds, perjury and forgery, Dr. George F. Brackett, federal physician, was named in an indictment returned before Federal Judge Frank H. Rudkin today. A bench warrant was immediately issued for his arrest, bail in the sum of $10,000 being asked by U. S. Attorney Annette A. Adams.

The sums obtained by Dr. Brackett through the use of false affidavits, by which he obtained government warrants upon the treasury department, will total in excess of $10,000. This loss will fall upon the bondsmen of United States Marshal James B. Holohan, who is bonded in the sum of $35,000, it is said, he being the disbursing officer for the department of justice here, who signed these warrants.

NAMES OF DOZEN FORGED.—The names of a dozen prominent physicians were forged by Dr. Brackett, according to the indictment, to vouchers and later cashed. It is alleged he made affidavits that they had rendered assistance in the performance of capital operations upon federal prisoners, which he could not handle alone.

The grand jury also alleged that more than 200 false names appeared upon Dr. Brackett's charge slips of male federal prisoners treated in the county jail, and nearly 100 women had at the San Joaquin hospital. The alleged "padding" in these cases will total $35,000.

ACCOUNTS FALSIFIED.—Another scheme by which large sums are alleged to have been obtained was the falsification of iron-ment accounts as having been rendered actual inmates, who were serving sentences. One of these, Isadore Constanza, former secret service agent, was ill for months, according to Dr. Brackett's affidavits, and he was paid for the visits and medicine required. Constanza was never sick during the entire ten months he served, according to Special Agent Samuel J. Adams, who was in charge of the investigation. Alleged false charges for treatment to former Police Commissioner Harry Plannery while serving a term for the sale of liquor to soldiers, in some instances amounting to $25 for each visit, were also alleged as fraudulent. Plannery being treated by his personal physician while in confinement at the county jail and Franklin hospital.

Man, Reported to Be Dead, Back from War

PETALUMA, June 27.—Max Pochmann, son of Frank Pochmann, one time reported killed in action in France, has returned home. Pochmann was in many of the big engagements, but escaped injury. His relatives mourned him as dead for weeks, when finally they received word through the Red Cross that he was alive and well.

War Cripple Parades
Five Miles on Crutches

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 27.—Private Albert Augustine, who is still convalescing from wounds received in the Argonne last October, could not resist it when his regiment marched in a home-coming parade here recently. Picking up his crutch he joined his old company and kept in line for the whole five miles of the parade.

OFFICIALS OF JAPAN ALARMED BY RADICALS

TOKYO, May 23 (Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Japanese authorities are disturbed over an effort to start a Socialist movement of an extreme nature in this country. Several secret meetings have been held at which speakers have proclaimed radical doctrines.

The police are actively engaged in the search of "dangerous thought" propagandists. Recently postcards propagating radical Socialist principles have been sent from Tokyo to petty officers and men of all army divisions. Denunciatory searches were carried out in all directions, but very few copies of the postcards were seized. Mr. Honma, chief secretary of the Metropolitan police board, declared that so far there is no indication of Bolshevism or nihilism having been introduced in Japan.

Mexicans, in Ambush, Shoot at Americans

NOGALES, Ariz., June 27.—A party of six Mexicans fired upon a cavalry patrol about four miles west of here late yesterday. The Americans returned the fire. No Americans were injured.

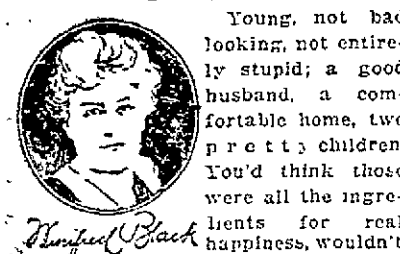

The cavalrymen were without orders to cross the border line and sought cover when fired upon. About a dozen rounds were fired at the Mexicans, who were concealed in brush. Whether the Mexicans were killed or not could not be determined.

FOLKS AND THINGS

Young, not bad looking, not entirely stupid; a good husband, a comfortable home, two or three children. You'd think those were all the ingredients for real happiness, wouldn't you?

Not so. The woman who is and has all these things is very miserable indeed.

She says her husband is a good business man, but not so good as she would be in his place, and she worries about it.

Oh, yes, he earns enough to support her and the children. But just think how much more she could earn, and it would be so easy, too—no breakfast to get in the morning, no dinner to fuss over at night, no curtains to hang, no "welcome" to put on the mat. Just a neat little business suit and a typewriter and an office—and lots of people all day long, and luncheon at a restaurant downtown, and office chums and office gossip, and office politics—oh, it would be great!

HOW ABOUT HUSBAND?

So uplifting, so satisfying to the soul.

But then there are the children. What shall she do with them? She worries a good deal about it.

She says the children are not good—they're mischievous and selfish and quarrelsome—and she hates to bother with them, and, yet, what is her duty?

What on earth is getting into all the women?

Why can't they see that there's such a thing as right and wrong, and duty and honor?

How can they expect to take one job and get paid for it, and then go and get another job and get paid for that?

Oh, yes, that's what it is—marriage and home-making, and child-rearing and child-training—it's a job. And a good, hard job, too, and it takes a woman that's a real woman to handle it.

These children and that husband and the home are that woman's job—why doesn't she attend to it?

What right has a woman with such ideas as this to marry at all?

Suppose her husband went to a factory to get a job and said, "I'll come here and work for you and I expect good, living wages, but I want you to understand that I am not really interested in this work at all. There's something else I'd rather be doing and just as soon as I get a chance to do it I'm going to quit the factory."

What do you think of his chances of getting a job?

Help her husband, by going down town to business with him and putting her children away in school somewhere.

She won't help her husband. She'll hinder him—no matter how clever she is.

WHAT WILL HAPPEN?

Herself she may help—but her husband she will hurt.

She will hurt his pride, and his self-respect, and his sense of responsibility. And the first thing she knows he'll be thinking within his heart, "Oh, well, she doesn't need me. She can take care of herself, and there's a that dear little help-

My Dear Wife:
I wonder if you will collect the next two installments of your alimony from your brother. He owes me that amount and probably you will have better luck getting it out of him than I have had. By the time you do I think I will have met and married a wealthy Greek widow and the payment of your alimony will be easy and prompt. I haven't decided on the lady, but probably one of the thirty you mentioned in the suit. Have you any choice?

WAKIN' UP O' MORNINGS.
Wakin' up o' mornings for another happy day.
Another round o' laughter an' another whirl o' play;
Another time o' smilin' from the dawn till dusk descends,
Another day for tulin' an' for livin' with my friends.

Wakin' up each mornin' for another chance to see
The blossoms in the garden an' the green leaves on the tree;
Another day o' laughter an' another day o' cheer
With the mother an' the baby an' the children smilin' near.

Wakin' up o' mornings for the gracious gifts of God,
A round o' glad surprises as along life's way I plod
To see some new-born blossom shining gaily at the door
An' to hear the baby prattle something never said before.

Wakin' up o' mornings to an ever changin' scene
To find some thrill o' gladness that before has never been;
To live the old joys over an' to come upon the new
An' maybe find some little dream o' splendor comin' true.

acquaintance of mine who's just dying for a home—I wonder if there isn't some way we can arrange it so that we'll all be happier?

Oh, yes, that's what is going to happen—maybe it should not, but it will.

And the children? Oh, well, what are they, and who are they that any one should trouble about them? They'll soon be old enough, poor things, to shift for themselves, anyhow.

REVELATIONS of a WIFE

by ADELE GARRISON

"There's no need for you to blush, Maggie," Lillian said in a kindly manner-of-fact tone that helped me to regain my poise. "Harry is one of the most fascinating devils going when he wants to be. Most women simply let him manage them instead of being clear-headed enough to manage him. Your head always or nearly always rules your impulses, my dear."

"It's this quality on which I'm counting in the duel of wits for which I shall have to set the stage."

I wonder what will be the most plausible pretense to get you in town every day for a week or so?

Lillian looked at me thoughtfully as we sat in her library after our exciting adventure with the spying marauders.

"Why not the one of which you spoke when you thought you needed me before?"

I was prompt to answer her, for her approval of my other suggestion concerning the best way of encountering Harry had been so encouraging. Harry had been so kind and had emboldened me, had given me confidence in my own mental processes. Besides, I suspected that Lillian, like most persons of mental activity and quick decisions, hated an appearance of uncertainty in any one.

She rewarded me with a flashing glance of approval.

"You mean that I need your historical knowledge in dealing with me into some costume lore of some illustrations I have to get out?"

"Yes," I returned. "And it would give me an excuse for being at the library again. I could see to it that one already prepared if Mr. Underwood sees me, for I'm never any good at quick inventions."

"I don't know about that," Lillian returned. "I'm beginning to think you can meet any emergency of thought or action, my dear. But that's a good scheme if I did think of it. And I'll admit that I think I'd better call Dicky up after you go home and ask his gracious permission to spare you as soon as his mother is well enough for you to come. When do you think that will be?"

"There's no reason why I shouldn't come tomorrow if only Dicky does not imagine I'm neglecting his mother," I answered. "The danger of shock is passed now, and while, of course, the broken arm is painful, yet there is no acute illness. And Cousin Agatha is a wonderful nurse. She doesn't leave her cousin for 10 minutes at a time, and all her usual activities seem to be restored. She and Mother Graham were having a wonderfully good visit yesterday over their childhood. You know they were brought up almost together."

"Yes, I know," I can imagine the woman is a good nurse. She ought to be something to make up for the trouble she has caused you. And don't you say I see no reason why you should come back tomorrow. Katie surely doesn't need you, and if your Cousin Agatha is so busily engaged with your mother-in-law she won't have time to be bothered with you. And everything will be smooth as ice while you are gone."

THE "EASY" MOTHER.
I stifled the impulse to retort that there would be as many opportunities for ugly falls as smooth ice would afford. I had voluntarily offered myself to the service under Lillian. It wasn't for me to draw back even in thought from it. But I could not shake off a mental vision of Katie's face when I should tell her that she would be left to Cousin Agatha's tender mercies for a week.

Lillian relieved the situation somewhat for me with her next words.

"Of course, there will be no need for you to stay here at night," she said. "And as Harry is the nearest man in the country about getting up in the morning there will be no need for you to waste any time at the library before 11 o'clock. You can get that 10 o'clock train, and then go straight to the library, and there will be no use of your waiting after 3. Harry wouldn't let even his favorite hobby interfere with his late afternoon stroll up and down Broadway and Fifth avenue."

FINAL INSTRUCTIONS.
I drew a breath of deep thankfulness. I could manage that program without a domestic upheaval.

"I'll hurry up luncheon," Lillian said. "You can get home as soon as possible. What time do you think you'll be there?"

"I have an errand to do for Mother Graham," I said. "But it won't take very long. I'm sure to be able to be home by 4 o'clock."

I knew better than to voice the rumormongering I felt as to Lillian's reasons for wishing me to be at home early. She satisfied it herself, however, with her next sentence.

"When you reach Marvin," she said, "phone me from some place outside your home that you have arrived. Then when you have had time to reach the house I'll telephone Dicky. I don't want him to surmise that we have been planning anything, and if he calls you up afterward you'll be at home, understand? And you haven't seen me today."

To Be Continued.

GALLUS' BEDTIME STORY

(By Howard H. Garis.)
"Wait for us, Uncle Wiggily! Wait for us!"

The bunny uncle rabbit gentleman heard some one calling like that to him on morning as he was about to start for a ride in his automobile.

"Hm! I wonder who that is?" thought Uncle Wiggily as he looked up at the chimney of his hollow stump bungalow, thinking, perhaps, that his muskrat lady housekeeper, Nurse Jane Puzzy Wuzzy, might have climbed up there and stuck her head out to call to him. But Nurse Jane was not there.

Next Uncle Wiggily leaned over in the seat of his automobile and looked toward the ground. And there he saw Johnnie and Billie Bushytail, the squirrel boys.

"Wait, you who called to me?" asked the bunny gentleman.

"Yes," chattered Billie, "it was."

"We were afraid you'd go off without us," explained Johnnie, frisking his big tail.

"I didn't know you wanted to go with me," spoke Mr. Longears. But as long as you are here, hop in and come for a ride. Where are you going?"

"To school," answered Johnnie. "This is the last day of school for a long time. We are going to have a vacation."

"There will be no lessons in school today. Some of the animal girls and boys are going to graduate, and the teachers won't make us study."

"That's good," laughed Uncle Wiggily. "But what have you there, Johnnie and Billie?" he asked, as he saw the squirrel boys each trying to hide something under their coats.

"We've got something to show you," said Johnnie, sort of shy like and inconspicuous.

"What kind of berries does she want?" asked Billie.

"She didn't say," answered Uncle Wiggily. "I guess almost any kind I find in the woods will do. I have some strawberries and red berries. Perhaps today I may find a new color."

Uncle Wiggily jiggled along in his auto, taking the squirrel boys on their way to school. They were at once the hollow hummings of the body mouse, which heard the lessons of the animal children, when all of a sudden, just as the auto turned the corner, the boys dashed out from behind a stone popped the bad old boozap.

The boozap was worse than the boozap, who ate shoe buttons, for the boozap not only ate buttons, but he ate buttons as well as shoes. As the boozap saw Uncle Wiggily and the squirrel boys, the bad chap looked at them and said, "I'll eat you, too, if you don't stop."

"I'll eat you, too, if you don't stop," said the boozap, who was a very bad chap. "I'll eat you, too, if you don't stop."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Fresh paint stains and fruit stains are the accompaniment of the warm season, and unless they are promptly handled they mean permanent discolorations. It is a good plan to have hung up in the kitchen or bathroom a little card with suggestions for easy removal of many kinds of stains. If promptly attended to it is quite possible to remove traces of almost any stain.

To remove ink spots from fabrics make a thick paste of milk and starch and spread this on the spots and leave it for two days. And at the end of this time the spots will be hardly visible when the paste has been brushed off. It is, however, of use only if the spots are treated soon after they have been made.

Luciezia Bori on BEAUTY

All women appreciate the fact that thick, glossy hair is one of the most important attributes of beauty. Thick hair, loosely waved, makes the prettiest frame for any face. If your hair is thin, its growth may be encouraged by brushing and massage, frequently it may be helped by the proper shampooing.

Never forget that hair and skin are necessary to the beauty and the growth of your hair as they are to the growth of a plant. Sun your hair once a week for at least twenty minutes, and air it thoroughly while loosened each day.

Thinness of your hair may sometimes be caused by an overly dry scalp. For such a scalp a good shampoo thoroughly it is well to part your hair in two-inch sections, beginning at the front and running toward the back.

The tips of your fingers should be used to massage the scalp. The massage should be put into a shallow bowl or saucer and your finger tips dipped into it for the amount requisite for use.

A formula that slightly varies this egg shampoo and which is said to be good for a dry scalp is made of:
1 whole egg (well beaten).
Warm, soft water.....1 pint.
Sprinkle of rosewater.....1 ounce.
Beat these ingredients well together and rub the mixture thoroughly into your scalp and hair, using the same massage method as suggested above. Rinse it off carefully with two or three warm waters.

HAIR OILS AND TONICS.
In rinsing your hair always be careful not to rub the long hair in such a way as to tangle it. This can be done by holding your long hair up and away from your scalp with one hand while rubbing in the shampoo lather with the other.

Some hairdressers favor using only the yolk of the egg in an egg shampoo, while others use only the white. No good reason appears for either idea. The oil and sulphur ingredients of the yolk are of distinct value to the scalp. The omission of the whites of the eggs is based only on their stickiness. A thorough beating of the eggs will overcome this sticky quality.

A refreshing tonic for a dry scalp is made of:
Oil of sweet almonds.....1 pint.
Burdock root.....1 ounce.
Oil of thyme.....1 ounce.
Oil of rosemary.....1 ounce.
Oil of bergamot.....1/2 drams.
Oil of lemon.....1 dram.
Oil of rose.....1/2 dram.
Mix the first two ingredients and then add the others one by one until they're thoroughly incorporated.

Jimmy-Old-Boy!

A Letter-Play by Richard Wightman

Kamerad!
To J. O. R.
Jim, do the men get the women or the women get the men? Which actually puts the kibosh on the other? Which capitulates? Which makes the other sign the armistice?

And by the way, Jim "armistice" in this situation strikes me as being particularly good, for what would courtship and marriage be without arms? Hearts are all right in their way—and feelings—but it would be dull business without arms, flexible and pliant arms that can wind round and round and contract convulsively.

I suppose to a degree it's a mutual proposition—each goes after the other in a blind sort of stalling war without knowing anything at all about what is in store for them—but in the end one of the two makes the other come to time and is all puffed up with the pride of conquest.

I've deliberated on this matter somewhat, and have watched the behavior of certain specimens in different parts of the world, and I'm inclined to think that in the vast majority of cases the woman gets the man, and when he's all in cluckles with that peculiar delight characteristic of the species.

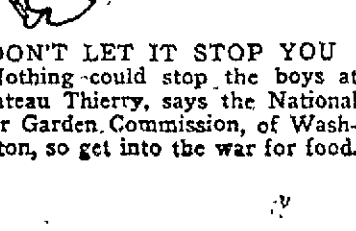

I will cite two illustrations.

A friend of mine took a woman to dinner. They had both been married and had more or less experience. She reached over and took his bread and buttered it for him. That was a new one for him. No one had ever buttered his bread before. He was touched. Tears came into his eyes and passion into his soul. That was ten years ago. They have been man and wife ever since and everything had gone as merry as a marriage Bell-eau Wood.

I know a girl who got married on the strength of what she knew about men's pipes. She went to a Fifth Avenue tobacconist and found out the correct names for the different parts of a pipe, and sprung 'em on a fellow. He said a pipe consisted of bowl, ferrule and mouthpiece. She told him he was wrong and proved it—made him see that a regular honestoged pipester always referred nonchalantly to the stummel, ring and bit. He thought he'd never met such a wonderful girl, and got dizzy and proposed. And there you are! They're married and have one adopted child.

Yes, Jimmy-Old-Boy, I guess it's mostly the woman who gets the man. I guess he's generally the one who capitulates—accepts the terms of the armistice. And as a well-armed bachelor I am wondering which one of the women will ultimately get me. Will she be tall and dark and thin, or short and light and round?

JUDGE SCORES MAN IN CHARGE OF BIG ESTATE

Failure of E. S. Thomas to manage the estate of Mrs. James W. Thomas in a manner satisfactory to Superior Judge Dudley Kinsell resulted today in the assertion from the bench that Thomas had embezzled some diamonds from the estate. The subject will be further investigated.

Thomas was in court in response to the petition of the Berkeley Bank of Savings for letters of administration to the estate. Thomas was appointed guardian of Mrs. Thomas five years ago, she having been declared incompetent. The estate was valued at about $50,000 at that time. Two years ago Mrs. Thomas died and Thomas continued to conduct

SMOKER IN NEED OF MATCH CALLS FIRE COMPANY

Dan Noble of Richmond boulevard couldn't find a match early this morning, so he called the fire department.

Conservation spread over the neighborhood of Richmond boulevard and Napier street, where Noble pulled fire box 433. Every one was looking for a blaze.

But Noble calmly leaned against a post until Chief Charles J. Thaler came up.

"Where's the fire?" asked the chief, breathlessly.

Noble, holding a long Havana cigar in one hand, coatless and hatless, looked puzzled. "What fire?"

"Why, chief, I only wanted a match."

Noble was taken into custody for investigation of his sanity and the fire-fighters returned to their berths.

The estate without having been appointed administrator after death. This, Judge Kinsell held, was illegal. Then there came up the subject of the diamonds and Thomas said that he had pawned them.

"This is as clear a case of embezzlement as I ever have seen," said Judge Kinsell, after the disclosure.

PINCHED NURSES AND LOSES WIFE

Upon the conclusion of Dr. Herbert V. Prouty that the nurses at the hospital where he was a patient, "were pleased, and liked it" when he pinched them, Mrs. Dorothy Prouty, of Crockett, today won a decree of divorce in San Francisco. It does not say in the decree whether the divorce was granted because of the doctor's conclusions or because of the fact that he pinched the nurses.

Mrs. Prouty said that her husband was a patient in a local hospital in November, 1917, where he underwent an operation. She called to see him accompanied by Mrs. Anna Thise. They asked him how he was getting along, she said, and he replied: "I pinch the nurses, and they like it."

Mrs. Thise corroborated this testimony.

Dr. Prouty charged his wife with infidelity with Robert McLaughlin. She denied this charge.

SWITCHING PLAN BLOCKED, BELIEF

Telegrams received this morning by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce are taken by the Traffic Bureau to indicate that the attempt of the United States Railroad Administration to establish zone switching in Oakland, Los Angeles and San Francisco is not looked upon with favor in Washington. It is intimated that the information sent to the national capital yesterday by the Traffic Bureau has resulted in steps being taken there to block effectually the proposed order.

Today's telegrams came from Congressman J. A. Elston of Berkeley and John J. Esch, chairman of the House Committee on Interstate and Domestic Commerce. Elston wired:

"Have conferred with Max Thelen (director of service of the railroad) and John J. Esch, chairman of the House Committee on Interstate and Domestic Commerce. Have written Thelen, laying the matter in full detail before him—the cost to the industries through the zoning system, the fact that the zone switching rate in Oakland and the Southern Pacific franchise for waterfront property based on the granting of a flat rate.

4 Oakland Soldiers Due at Presidio Soon

Oakland has soldiers in both the 322d and 324th infantry regiments. They will arrive at the Presidio soon for demobilization. The state committee on readjustment has received the roster of California men. The 322d infantry is now at Camp Morrison, Virginia, and the 324th at Camp Jackson, South Carolina. The Oakland men with the 322d are Will C. Hawes, printer, and Tony Vukovich, general laborer, and with the 324th, Abel H. Epilosa, an auto mechanic, and Willard Conrad, a clerk, whose home is at 1006 Jefferson street.

"Little Jeff's" Fifth Victim Knocked Out

James Latta, 513 Center street, is the fifth victim in the month of the wrath of Joshua Ward, otherwise known as "Little Jeff." Latta called "Jeff" a "horse thief," whereupon the latter, armed with a newspaper, struck him across the head with a cane. Latta was treated for a lacerated scalp at the Emergency Hospital.

"Jeff" becomes enraged when referred to as "house thief." Five people, say the police, have come to grief from so "kidding" him.

Waits 3 Days for His Friend; Lands in Jail

Convinced that C. Gonzales was over-anxious in his search for "a friend," because he lingered for three days and three nights in the neighborhood of Fifth and Piety streets, the police lodged the man in the city prison for investigation today.

According to a police report the residents were "baffled" and believed Gonzales a man who was planning some crime. They claimed he had been lurking in the neighborhood for three days and nights.

When first interviewed by the police, Gonzales said "No value. Through an interpreter he told them he was in search of a friend."

CHILD LABOR LAW CAMPAIGN IS ON

A campaign against the employment of child labor in printing establishments is being begun by the Alameda County Printers' Association Tuesday evening, when at a meeting of that organization, a resolution was passed authorizing the payment of a reward of $50 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any employer of a printing establishment employing child labor in violation of Federal labor laws.

A similar reward is also offered by this organization for the name of any business firm using printing that is the product of a child-labor printing establishment. Large display advertisements are being prepared by the association for publication in all of the Alameda county papers, appealing to the buying public by requesting them not to patronize merchants who make use of printed advertisements matter produced by child-labor printing offices.

In connection with these advertisements there will appear a list of

You Offered Bribe, Police Court Charge

A marked $10 bill will be offered to substantiate the charge of attempted bribery, when Lin You appears on July 17 in the police court of Judge Mortimer Smith to answer the charge of violating the state poison act.

Inspector Angel Favitt of the state pharmacy board arrested You last night at 577 1/2 Fifth street. He charges that You gave him the marked money. Favitt had a man who was caught in the room with You mark his initials on the proffered bribe.

The specific charge against the Chinese is that he was smoking opium. A quantity of the narcotic and several pipes were taken. He was arraigned this morning before Police Judge Smith.

GIRL'S QUICK WIT LIMITS YOUTH'S BURNS

Paul Loosen, 17 years old, is recovering today from painful burns about the hands, arms, and face, the result of a gasoline accident last evening in the lens room of the Chini-Beretta Optical Company, where he was employed. The boy was rubbing glasses with gasoline, which became ignited, spreading the fire to the boy's clothes. That he was not burned worse is due, Fire Chief Elliott Whitehead says, to the presence of mind of Miss Mable Perkins, secretary in the store, who wrapped a rug about him, smothering the flames. He is being treated by Dr. Harry Alexander.

Tuberculosis Leads as Cause of Deaths

Tuberculosis leads all diseases in Oakland in number of cases and in mortality, according to the figures for the past month, compiled by the board of health. Two hundred and forty-eight cases are reported in the city with five deaths for the month. Twelve influenza deaths are reported in the past two months, no record of cases being tabulated save where deaths occurred. Fifty-three chicken pox cases are reported in Oakland in the past month, eleven cases of mumps, eleven cases of smallpox, and one case of anthrax, a freak case where this disease, prevalent among the horses, was contracted by a stableman employed in East Oakland.

Girl Bride's Parents Prosecute Reese

The saddened career of little Doris Haney, 17-year-old bride, was again reflected on the Oakland police blotter today, when Howard S. Reese, age 22, was booked on the charge of contributing to the girl's delinquency.

Mrs. Haney had been separated from her husband and was living with Reese at 256 Havercourt avenue.

Since her separation from her husband on May 14, the little bride has experienced a series of troubles. She was first hunted as a runaway and was confined in Oreille as a juvenile delinquent. The parents of the girl pressed the charge against Reese, although the mother had given her consent to the marriage with Haney.

Held to Answer for Snatching Purse

Accused of snatching a purse, containing $15, from a patron's hand in the saloon of A. Baruschin, 1637 Seventh street Joseph Williams, negro, was today held to answer in Superior Court and his bail was set at $200 in Police Judge Mortimer Smith's court.

George E. Lilly is the complainant. He charges that on June 8 he was in the Baruschin bar, when Williams grabbed his purse and ran. Lilly followed him for ten blocks and directed officers to a house where Williams sought refuge.

Sixty delegates will attend. The attitude of the United States Senate and the American peace delegates will be discussed. William A. Lynch, president of the United Irish societies of the district, will be chairman.

'Hello' Girl Saves Movie Hero's Life

One of the most exciting scenes in "The Crimson Gardenia," Rex Beach's stirring drama of mystery, romance and a venture which is now being presented at the American Theatre occurs near the end of the play and shows the hero, Roland Van Dam (Owen Moore) in the power of a band of counterfeiters, who, believing their captive a secret service agent, determine to send him post-haste over the long, long trail.

The young man realizes that he is in a desperately tight place and he racks his brain for some plan of escape. Suddenly an idea comes to him. Unnoticed by his enemies, he succeeds in lifting the telephone receiver from its hook and immediately commences to parley with the six rude gentlemen who are bent on presenting him with a through ticket to Paris unknown. As he talks, he emphasizes certain words which explain to the telephone operator his predicament and his whereabouts.

Last night as this scene was being enacted on the American Theatre screen, and at the point when Moore was making his frantic effort to get in communication with central, a small boy, who in the excitement of the moment forgot that the scene he was witnessing was supposed to have taken place in New Orleans—forgot everything but the fact that the hero was trying his darndest to get central, suddenly gave a groan, clutched the arm of the gentleman seated next to him and gasped: "Gee! Don't that guy know that the telephone girls are out on strike?"—Advertisement.

If you really want the puckery tannin-taste, don't buy tea. You can get more tannin from oak-leaves.

If you want the real tea-flavor, pay enough for your tea to get it.

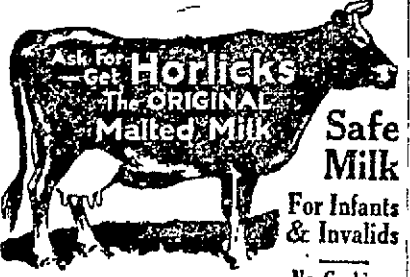

There is some tea-taste—not very fine—in common tea; but the tannin-taste smothers it.

Besides, fine tea is cheaper per cup than poor tea—a pound makes so many more cups.

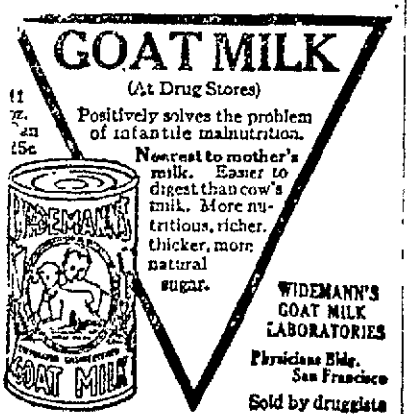

Schilling Tea is the fine practical economical tea of this country.

There are four flavors of Schilling Tea—Japan, Ceylon, India, Oolong, English Breakfast. All one quality. In parchment lined measure proof packages. At grocers everywhere.

U. S. Has Funds to Pay All Rail Bills

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The railroad administration announced today that it would be able to meet the obligations falling due July 1, although the appropriation bill carrying funds for the railroad administration, recently passed by Congress, has not been signed by the President. The sum to be paid out embraces interest on indebtedness of the various federal-controlled roads and dividend payments, and totals about $100,000,000.

Wire Plea for Dredging Permit May Renew Channel Work Soon

Telegraphic appeal to the Secretary of War is the latest move in the city's plan to resume dredging in the Albers channel, following a conference last night between Harbor Engineer K. S. Heck and Colonel E. H. Heuer of the army district of rivers and harbors. Heuer ordered the work stopped yesterday. Heck and Heuer agreed in the conference, he says, that the law as it applies to the present work is purely a technical matter, as the site being dredged is no real obstruction to navigation. Heck contends that the law in reality gives the city the right to perform the work, as it provides that the law against dumping or dredging into navigable waters applies only to solids, and not to fine ooze, and furthermore exempts public improvements to navigation under the supervision of the army engineers. Heuer holds that this clause means government work only. "We are sending a night letter to the Secretary of War," said Heck, "and Colonel Heuer is of the opinion that this will permit us to resume the work in about two days." The work is desired to be rushed to permit a large vessel, on its way from the Orient, to dock at the Albers wharf. The work consists of deepening the Albers channel by dumping the fine mud, which spreads evenly, on the Key Route basin. Heck contends that it would be impossible for this to obstruct navigation.

YOUTH PAYS $5 TO GET BLONDE WIFE, BUT FAILS

Romance, alas, is dead! And it cost Charley Santos, a former youth of Stockton, $5 to learn this bitter, bitter truth!

With a new suit, a lavender necktie and a melancholy demeanor not in keeping with such resplendent raiment, Charley sought Captain of Inspectors Walter J. Petersen today. "I've been lunked!" he complained. "I paid $5 for a wife and I ain't got her!"

"Boy—you're ahead of the game," said Petersen. "It's worth $5 to escape the halter of matrimony. But resume—how did it happen?"

"I saw an ad for a home-making club that was to furnish wives for lonesome young men," said Charley. "It said to send $5 to be registered and tell what kind of a wife you wanted and they'd fix it up. I ordered a blonde. I've been waiting for six days and no wife has been sent to me, so I came down here."

Petersen has turned the complaint over to the mail authorities for investigation.

NAVAL FUND IS PASSED IN TOTO

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The naval appropriation bill has passed the Senate virtually as reported by the Senate committee and now goes to conference. It carries approximately $644,000,000, an increase of more than $44,000,000 over the House measure.

There was no record vote and no debate on any of the larger items, although Senators Kings, Democrat, Utah, and La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, 1920 session to declare that they believed the appropriations to be "excessive."

The largest increase made by the Senate over the House measure is the committee amendment to make the appropriation for naval aviation $35,000,000, instead of $15,000,000.

Next in size is a $12,000,000 increase for pay, which covers the Senate provision authorizing an enlisted strength of 191,000 men from September 30 to the end of the fiscal year, as opposed to the House plan to reduce the force to 170,000 after January 1, 1920.

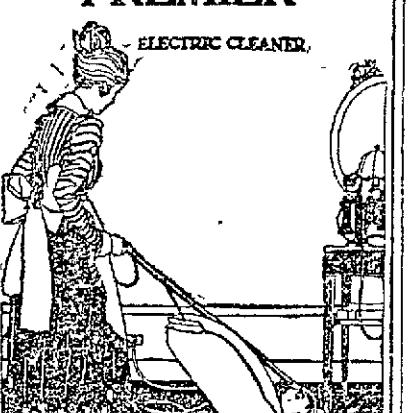

The only important amendment made on the floor was offered by Senator La Follette to give enlistments in the army, navy, or marine corps now in force and by the terms of the House bill this provision is as of April 7, 1917, the date of the war declaration. The Wisconsin Senator's purpose, he said, was to make all men who rushed to volunteer in the army or navy when war was certain, but before the actual declaration, eligible for discharge at the end of the war period.

WAR HERO SAYS WIFE'S LOVE FOR HIM HAS COOLED

After fighting for his country in the battles of Europe and allotting his wife $40 a month during his absence, Private William D. Reynolds of 1820 Carlton street, Berkeley, says he returned home to find that her love for him had vanished.

Today he filed notice that he would not be responsible for her debts, and announced that he will sue for a divorce. Mrs. Reynolds lives at the Hotel Whitcomb in San Francisco. Reynolds was cited for bravery in action during the battles of the Argonne.

PATROL CORPS TO SEEK FIRE MENACE

One of the first steps in a sustained fire prevention campaign will, beginning July 1, when Fire Chief Elliott Whitehead will start a corps of fire inspectors patrolling the business districts of the city. Realizing, through long experience, that nearly all fires are the result of carelessness and are therefore preventable, the chief plans to educate the business men of Oakland to an appreciation of the fire hazards which surround them.

The inspectors are to be the officers in charge of the fire companies in the down-town districts where the serious fires are liable to occur. They have been instructed to point out various violations of the city ordinances which constitute fire menaces and report their findings to the fire marshal for further action in the event that conditions, which they consider dangerous to life and property, are not abated within a reasonable time.

The members of this newly organized inspection bureau will appear always in full uniform and as legally appointed deputies to the fire marshal will have the right to enter any and all buildings during reason-

Takes Poison and Is Held for Larceny

Seeking death is no way to avoid the attention of Oakland's sharp-eyed minions of the law—because the police patrol is used as an ambulance.

That why Mrs. Patricia Watson is in the city prison today instead of being in the morgue. According to the police, the woman, who lives at 612 Eighth street, attempted suicide by taking poison, and was taken to the Emergency Hospital. She was identified by the police as a woman wanted on a petty larceny charge, when her record was looked up at the hospital, and after she had recovered from the effects of the poison she was taken to the city prison and booked.

Howard Will Shake Up His Team Today Following Third Defeat

Breaks Favor Seattle, but Oaks Fail to Connect With Elusive Offerings of Clymer's Shipyard Pitcher

By BOB SHAND.

Don't be surprised if J. Cal Ewing is missing from the ball yard one of these days and inquiries elicit the information that the Oakland press is headed on a hunt for ball players. J. Cal wasn't fit company for a regular manager being after the Seattle lunch not through wanting the Oaks for the third straight time yesterday and the fact that the deed was done on the Oakland lot was too much for the Oakland boss. Cal stormed and roared and then hunted alibi, but the only thing of importance that remained after he got through ranting was the fact that the Oaks had been stung three times in the same place by an outfit that was supposed to be a scout for the local athletes. Manager Del Howard was not feeling much better than Cal. If anything, he packed the worse news.

DEL SAYS HE CAN'T ACCOUNT FOR IT.

"I can't account for it," said Del when asked what in blazes was the matter with his ball club. "I figured to clean up this gang and here we have dropped three in a row. Our boys are in a slump and I can't seem to be able to get out of it. No, the chattering that Ewing has been doing on the coasting line has nothing to do with it. His talk does not worry my players. We are simply out of luck while the Seattle team is cheering over its head and getting the breaks."

How about shaking up the team and sprinkling a new batting order tomorrow, that might change the luck," we suggested.

"We'll try it and see. I don't know how the team will line up tomorrow, but I will shake it up and see what effect that has. Certainly we can't do any worse than we have been doing."

TEAM WILL BE GIVEN A SHAKE-UP TODAY.

So today will see a new line-up when the Oaks take the field against the Purple Sox at Recreation Park, San Francisco.

Carl Holstad was the unlucky Oakland pitcher yesterday and Carl pitched good enough ball to win. He was touched for but six blows but unfortunately three of them were in the third inning and over-anxiety on the part of the young pitcher prevented him from consummating a double play.

WHAT HAPPENED IN THE EIGHTH INNING.

Came the eighth and the visitors filed the bats with none down. French singled, Gerrick was hit by a pitched ball and Gilligan hit one down that should have been converted into a double play, but Holstad failed to field the ball and the corners were jammed. Pop Compton batted one down in front of the plate and by a heroic leap Holstad got the tip of his fingers on the ball and threw to Mize to force French at the plate. Bill Cunningham was next and he cleared a two-play wallop that scored French and Gilligan and then Jimmy Walsh hit a home run to Billy Lee that registered Compton.

THIS WAS THE BREAK THAT WON ONE GAME.

The muffed double play was the "break" of the game and won for the visitors in the eighth inning. One Gleichenko got a break home run that should have been more than a two-ener. This slapped one to right that hit just inside the foul line and then bounced through the low fence in front of the big exit gate. Denny Wiley chased the ball until it disappeared and then Denny climbed the fence in an effort to get the ball back to the diamond. Wiley knew as well as anyone that it was a home run as the ball was out of sight, but he simply had to do something to relieve his feelings so he clambered over the fence. So there was a lot of luck in the Seattle victory even if they did prove their gameness by coming from behind for the third straight time to win the ball game.

Manager Bill "Clymer" Springer, another surprise, when he trotted out Jack Gilligan, the "handsome" chucker who used to perform with the Seals. When the Sox lined up Tuesday, Francisco Hesp, Vernon infielder, was at second for the Sox. Naholy knew he was with Seattle but Clymer. Then Hesp, another former Vernon player, pitched for Seattle Wednesday and yesterday Gilligan donned spangles.

FROM A SHIPYARD.

And to show the kind of a guy Bill Clymer is, he yanked Gilligan out of a local shipyard that was out in the yard yesterday without ever having seen him pitch. Clymer didn't even know if he was right or left-handed and he didn't care. Bill is willing to take a chance at all times. Billy Holstad, who played with Clymer in 1915, was responsible for Gilligan being with Seattle yesterday. Billy told Clymer shortly before the game that he had a pitcher whom he thought could win in this league. "Treat him out," said Clymer, "and we will start him out today."

Holstad beat it back to the shipyard and returned with Gilligan. "Here's your new pitcher," said Holstad.

"All right," replied Clymer, "get out there and warm up for you are going to pitch today."

Gilligan wanted to know something about the remuneration he could expect before he donned a uniform. He was not satisfied with the knowledge that he "would get all you are worth."

Gilligan is a financier so he made a proposition. He was to get $250 a week and if he didn't win he was to get a certain bundle of kake each week. He didn't want to be paid until he had won a game.

SEVEN OAKS STRUCK OUT BY GILLIGAN.

Gilligan set the Oaks back with seven hits and fanned seven of our batters. He pitched a perfect game, struck out seven batters and scored a run. That was plenty fast enough so to-day's Jack has 20 holes a second job and a fat salary. Clymer was so elated over the showing of his new pitcher that he missed four dollars trying to induce Jack to go across the bay with him. "Comon, I'm going to spend a lot of dough," chirped Bill an hour after the game was over as he shook hands with Gilligan and then he decided to go home with "Manager" Billy Holstad.

Clymer was again a big feature of the game. Bill out-talked every body on the diamond and carried on a terrific while the TRUBING-Kinema movie camera did not miss a gesture. The one run lead the Oaks had meant nothing at all to Clymer.

"That's nothing," he shouted time and again. "We are going to get you yet."

And that's exactly what his gang did. They came back and scored three runs. The Oaks are two games below the .500 mark and this will never do at all. Watch for an upheaval if the boys don't get going soon.

Sammy Bohne made a wonderful play in the fourth when he took Seaver's drive and threw to first. Incidentally, Holstad showed a flash of speed getting over to cover the base. Murphy having gone out of position in an effort to block the ball.

Pop Arlett played some more awful ball at third base in the fifth inning. He robbed Gerrick of a hit and he pulled another clever stop on Knight in the seventh. Pop is there trying all the time and is a mighty useful player to have on a ball club.

Cooper, Murphy and Stumpf each young in with two blows. Denny Wiley got the other but it was Wiley's lone wallop that drove in the lone Oakland tally.

Wiley made the sweetest catch of the day when he got under Jimmy Walsh's fly in the fourth frame after a long run.

Billy Lee has a kick coming but Billy never chirps. In the ninth inning of Wednesday's game in San Francisco Billy shot one to left that most folks thought was a double, but he discovered yesterday that Walsh had been given an error on the play.

TAGGING THE BASES

The Seals made it three in a row over the Salt Lake Bees by winning 9 to 6 in eleven innings. Tom Seaton had to give a marvelous support to make him the winning pitcher, as the Bees were hitting him stunts in all directions, but at the same time his playmates were hampering the shoots of Gould for numerous hits, and most of them at times when runners were on the sticks.

The main feature of the game was Umpire's force. The fans did not like a decision which he gave against the home club and let him know so by hurling pop bottles and other things at him. After the game a crowd of fans stood around the dressing room in the hope of "getting" Bedford, but his unps made a clean get-away.

Bill Rumber, the Bees' best hitter and right up with the league leaders, suffered with an attack of heart trouble and had to be carried off the field.

Byler and Johnson of the Salt Lake club were thrown off the field by Bedford, they making their tongues act too freely.

Maury Schiek won the game for the Seals by hitting a triple after McKee had singled and Seaton had walked. Another hit by Fitzgerald scored Schiek, and Fitz made his way around to the plate on Hunter's infield hit and Koerner's single.

Fitzgerald and Koerner hit three apiece for the Seals, while Smith of Salt Lake hit the lone number. One of Smith's went for a homer, the ball hitting a hard spot in the field and bounding into the bleachers.

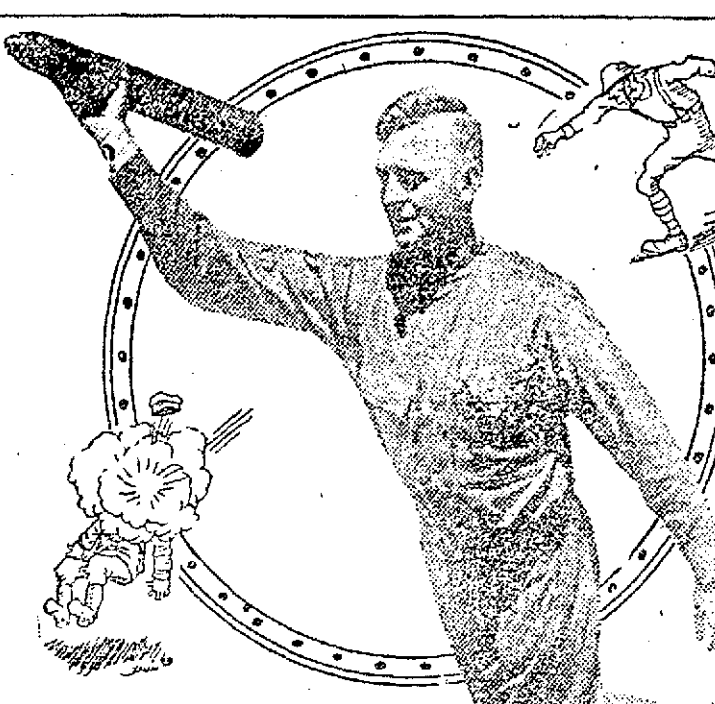

Curley Brown was in the box for the Angels and allowed the Sacramento Coyotes four hits. Vance worked for the Coyotes and allowed nine to give the Angels a 4 to 1 win, and the third straight over the Coyotes.

The Angels took a one run lead in the first inning, and the Coyotes tied it up in the fifth. Brown and Vance put up a good pitching duel until Vance weakened in the eighth and the Angels put three runs over.

Nine balls were hit to Bill Kenworthy, the Angels' second sacker, and he handled all of them perfectly. Bill got a hit and scored a run.

Sam Crawford again showed he is not all in by getting two hits, scoring a run and stealing two bases.

LOCALS GET BOSTON STAR

Big BILL JAMES did not wait for the fight or work act to go to war.

He was one of the first ball players to enlist and for several months was drill instructor at a training camp. His skill as a hurler helped make him equally clever as a thrower of hand grenades and bombs. The accompanying picture shows Bill tossing a bomb.

Big Bill James Will Pitch for Oaks Next Week

Former Star of the Boston Club Added to Local Hurling Corps

The Oaks have lost three in a row to the Seattle team and have dropped two games below the .500 mark, and a lot of people have already given up hope for our gang. However, there is a spirit of optimism rampant at the headquarters and the best evidence of the good faith of the management is the announcement made at the ball yard yesterday afternoon that Orville Bill James, hero of the world series won by Boston in 1918, had been signed by the Oaks.

Practically every club in the league wanted James, but the Oaks, with permission to sign with a Coast league club for the balance of the season and make the rounds of the various clubs looking for the best terms. While the Oaks were being lambasted to a faraway shore, the Stewashes yesterday Foreman Del Howard stepped up in the press box, where James was sitting and made mysterious motions to the big Boston hurler, which all meant that his terms had been accepted. Then Del notified the scribers of the deal.

CHANGE MAY HELP.

James had trouble with his pitching arm right after the 1914 series, and he has never been the same pitcher. Spasmodically he has shown wonder, but there was always a kink in his arm. He pitched the season out with Boston as an expert declared he was rounding into shape again, but Bill wanted to come to the coast, thinking that a change of climate was all that the old souper

It will be at least another week before James gets into a uniform. He left for Orville yesterday to have his tonsils removed and he will not be able to pitch for several days after the operation. Foreman Del hopes to have the big chucker here to pitch a week from Sunday.

In the meantime the club does not hit a winning streak. J. Cal Ewing threatens to head East and pry some talent loose from the majors.

Big League Gossip

In the eighth inning, the Detroit rightfielder, singled and drove in the only and deciding tally in the game with Cleveland.

The Cubs and St. Louis wore out nine pitchers in splitting their double-header.

Merkle made a triple and three singles out of four times at bat in the first game, but the second he failed to connect in three times up.

By beating Pittsburgh 7 to 0, Cincinnati gained on the league leading Giants. McGraw's men were idle.

St. Louis nipped Kerr for 15 hits and won, 3 to 2, from the White Sox in 13 innings.

The first of the series of five games between Washington and Boston went in the Senators by a 3 to 1 score.

ABE ATTILL IS VISITOR. Abe Attill, former local heavyweight champion, arrived in San Francisco yesterday, and will spend a short time in meeting his friends. He was attended by his wife, who is in the city.

HOW WILL WILLARD ACT WHEN STUNG? THAT'S THE QUESTION OF THE HOUR

Popular Belief Is That a Good Sound Wallop Will Take the Fight Out of Him

By FRANK G. MENKE, International News Service Staff Correspondent

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 27.—What will happen if Jack Dempsey hits and really hurts Jess Willard?

That is a question that is agitating asthetic psychologists more than any other created by the July Fourth fight.

Will Willard rush at Dempsey in a burst of berserker rage and try with all the power of his super-body to smash the smaller man into a prone and battered hulk? Or will pain take the fight out of him? Here is the answer of Jack Kearns, who manages Dempsey:

"The very minute that Jack lands his first crashing blow is the minute that Jess Willard goes to the canvas that he held in his jaws. If Willard doesn't go down for the long, long count, you can stake your bank account that from that on he will be a easy going fellow who never wants to hurt and who never in his life has used his full strength. That's because Jess has been punched him to the white anger that is possible."

"Once aroused, Willard will go out with a vengeance and he will not let an engaged Willard attacks can smother him."

Walter Monahan, chief sparring partner for the champion, who has boxed more than 200 rounds with him, takes an entirely opposite view. This is it: "If Willard ever gets fighting mad, no matter how the crowd is excited, he is sure to follow. Jess, by nature, is a cool fellow who never wants to hurt and who never in his life has used his full strength. That's because Jess has been punched him to the white anger that is possible."

Southern Girl Hard Pressed To Win Match

Consistent Driving Wins for Member of Famous Tennis Family

Miss Anita Myers, champion of the Golden Gate Park Ladies' Club, met defeat yesterday at the hands of Florence Sutton in the Pacific Coast tennis championships now going on at the Berkeley courts.

Miss Sutton gave a wonderful display of tennis and a big crowd of spectators gave her generous applause. It was the consistent driving of the southern girl that baffled Miss Myers after the first set, which went to deuce, before Miss Sutton won. The scores in the two sets were 2-6, 3-2.

Miss Myers has a fine chance for revenge in the doubles, in which she is paired with Miss Helen Baker. This pair defeated Mayne MacDonald, champion of the Pacific Northwest, and Mrs. Leachman, Vallejo champion yesterday. They met Miss Sutton and Mrs. Henry in the next round of the tournament.

The first real upset of the tournament was the victory of Charlie Sticken and Steve Smith of the Oakland tennis club over Jack and Bates of San Francisco. The latter pair held the championship and were considered sure winners over the Oaklanders.

Holiday Fights To Take Place At Emeryville

Frankie Burns and Jimmy Duffy will entertain at the Auditorium on the afternoon of the Fourth. The War Camp Community Service has arranged to stage a big time for enlisted men at the municipal edifice, so the boxing promoters gracefully stepped aside.

Frankie and Jimmy will entertain the fans at Emeryville instead of the cash customers would rather sit in the front row at the holiday afternoon. Anyhow, the switch has been made and the promoters have a flock of juniors on the job already during the coldest of the season and getting ready to accommodate a big holiday throng.

The promoters are training and Matchmaker Tommy Simpson "is thinking when Jimmy gets through thinking he will announce a flock of his usual high class preliminaries."

Ice Cream Freezer Used To Make Booze

THOMASVILLE, Ga., June 27.—It is being rumored that in some sections of the Wiregrass, moonshine booze is being made by a process that calls for an ice cream freezer, instead of the time-honored still.

"By this process, it is said, the 'mash' is put in the freezer, and when it has become frozen the booze just separates from the mash."

"There you are," with no distilling needed and no smoke to it as a giveaway. Of course by this process it would be necessary to be near a supply of ice, but in spite of inconvenience of that sort large sales of ice cream freezers are reported from some sections, though this immediate section is said to be still faithful to the old can.

JNO. CHAMBERS
PUT ON CIVIL SERVICE BOARD

John Chambers, president of the Blum Hat and Cap Works, builder and former federal typographical expert, is to be the new member of the Civil Service Board, replacing Roscoe Jones, attorney, on July 1. It was unofficially stated today. The appointment will be made on the last day of this month, according to word from Mayor John L. Davies. Due to provisions in the charter, setting forth that no more than three members of the city board shall be of the same sex, Lynne Stanley, the mayor's choice for the Recreation Board, cannot be appointed in the place of Miss Pihel Moore, past president. Mrs. Addie Mosher, past president of the Native Daughters and well known in fraternal circles in Oakland, will, it was stated today, be the successor to Miss Moore in this board. No choice has been made by the mayor for successors to Frank Parcells on the Library Board or W. D. Cole on the Park Board. Several candidates are being mentioned about the city hall for these two places.

Chambers is president of Blum Brothers Hat and Cap Co. of San Francisco, a large manufacturing plant, and has other manufacturing interests on both sides of the bay. He has also been engaged actively in the building line in Oakland. It was under civil service for fifteen years himself as an employee of the government in Washington, being in the patent specification and type-setting machinery department and while in the government service graduated from the National Law School.

He was active recently in helping to settle a number of labor disputes and says that his policy will be to operate the Oakland civil service along the same lines as the government's work.

Chambers came here as manager of the Pacific Coast Multiple Co. and has been a member of the Typographical Union for fifteen years. He is the first member of a union to go on the civil service board.

Probe of Agnew Hospital Ends
Sixty Witnesses Are Examined

AGNEW, June 27.—After examining more than sixty witnesses and taking half a million words of testimony, the Agnew hospital board concluded its investigation of the institution yesterday afternoon and adjourned to meet again July 1 at 11 a. m., when it is hoped that the voluminous record will be ready for transmission to the governor. The record will probably be accompanied by reports and recommendations from the three special representatives who have been present at all of the sessions—P. J. Tyrrell and E. S. Birdsall of the state lunacy commission and Ben H. Pendleton of the state board of charities and corrections.

A review of the entire investigation shows that serious charges were made by only two insane patients and that these were met by the testimony of an overwhelming array of sane witnesses and that only one sane witness other than Trustee Morace Wilson of San Francisco made any serious criticism of the institution or Dr. Stocking. This was Albert Howard, a former attendant, who declared that there was dissension among the hospital workers on account of Dr. Stocking's alleged partiality for non-union members.

DR. STOCKING ON STAND.

The inquiry opened this morning with Dr. Leonard Stocking on the stand and he gave an interesting history of his thirty-seven years' experience in the treatment of mental cases, the story of the wrecking of the old hospital building by the earthquake, and of the building of the new institution according to his ideas. Dr. Stocking made a considerable emotion during the recital.

The attendant Vernon whom Howard declared had been intoxicated while on duty at the switchboard was afterward discharged for drinking, Dr. Stocking said.

Dr. Stocking spoke for an increase in wages in order that a desirable class of attendance might be secured. The hours are long and the pay not very high. At one time during the war the hospital was compelled to get along with only two-thirds of a staff. In the men's wards they were short about 50 to 60 men. It has been the policy during this period to get along short-handed, rather than to employ an undesirable class of assistants.

Dr. Stocking said that he never failed to instruct attendants that they were handling cases of mental sickness and that cruelty toward them was inexcusable. "This cruelty," he said, might not only consist of roughness in handling them but in

'I DARNED HIS
SOCKS,' CRIES
MISS RAYMOND

LOS ANGELES, June 27.—Mrs. Earle Rafael Williams, who was Miss Florence Walz of New York, is expected to take the witness stand today to help her husband fight the suit for $166,000 breach of promise brought against him by Miss Roma Raymond.

Her testimony and that of B. B. Shaw, movie actor, are expected to throw new elements into the case. Miss Raymond has practically completed her story of Williams' alleged courtship. Her testimony came to a climax with a whispered recital of what Miss Raymond said was Williams' final refusal to make her his wife.

"He was my man," she told the jury. "I loved him. His physical condition did not matter. He was my man. He said, 'No, dear. You are a dear and I love you dearly. He put his arms around me and said, 'God bless you, little girl. I love you. It was the last conversation I had in his arms."

THE FIRST MEETING.

Miss Raymond previously had told of her first meeting with Williams.

This occurred, she said, at the Village studios at Flatbush, N. Y., where she was employed as an extra. Williams was very attentive and he invited her to a dinner at a friend's home. It was while they were alone at the "friend's" home that Williams kissed her and proposed marriage, she testified.

"A week later," testified Miss Raymond, "we went to a hotel and registered as Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Williams. Some time later he suggested that we take an apartment. He said he didn't have much money and as soon as he got a foothold in motion picture work we would be married. We took an apartment in Brooklyn in March, 1913, and we lived there as man and wife until September, 1918.

"He paid all the expenses. I did the cooking. We had no servant. I did the mending, darned his socks, turned the cuffs of his shirts and did the little things."

SHE PACKED HIS TRUNK.

Miss Raymond told of Williams leaving for California. She packed

TEXAS GIRLS IN
BATHTUB SCENE
CAUSE TROUBLE

NEW YORK, June 27.—Stories of merry-making in a Texas hotel in which pretty girls went wading in a bathtub, while champagne bottles were laid down a fliz barrage, were told in the divorce action brought by Mrs. Audrey Hammond Bay, wealthy Philadelphia woman, against Lieutenant James Holmes Bay, member of a prominent Quaker City family and during the war an army intelligence officer stationed at Fort Worth. The case was to be concluded today.

Bay swore he only attended the party in a Mineral Springs hotel to help his wife, a German spy suspect, was going to leave there. He said he protested against the presence of the two girls, but was out-argued by his friend, a wealthy Texas oil operator. He now believes he was "tricked," he said, to obtain evidence for his wife's suit.

POLICE NAB 3 AND SEIZE MORPHINE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Sixty packages of morphine and three alleged drug traffickers were taken in a raid on a second-hand furniture store at 911 McAllister street yesterday by agents of the Internal Revenue Department. Those taken are Mrs. Fannie Walker, one of the proprietors of the store; Grace Owen and John Rosen. It is believed the store is used as a warehouse for the disposal of the drugs.

While the inspectors were searching the store a woman giving the name of Grace Owens entered and fled. When John Rosen was taken into custody, Rosen confessed that he had given the package of drugs to the Owens woman, with whom, it is said, he lived, for delivery to a "friend." A small quantity of narcotics was found in the possession of Rosen.

The two women led the government agents to a room in the Hotel Milan, directly above the furniture store, where John Rosen was taken into custody. Rosen confessed that he had given the package of drugs to the Owens woman, with whom, it is said, he lived, for delivery to a "friend." A small quantity of narcotics was found in the possession of Rosen.

his trunk, she said, because he "was not feeling well."

The actress declared she had questioned the star about having given him one of the boxes of pills with Miss Florence Walz of New York. He explained that away, she said, by declaring Miss Walz was just a film fan with "lots of money."

When his engagement to Miss Walz was announced in a New York paper, Williams explained, declared Miss Raymond, that it "was just newspaper talk."

The former Miss Walz, now Mrs. Williams, occupied a seat beside her husband at today's proceedings. With well-shrouded though struggling emotion the pretty Polish girl, who says she gave up a stage career of her own to "make" Earle Williams, only to be rejected after four years of wifely attentions, told her story.

"How was he attentive?" Attorney Gilbert for Miss Raymond, asked.

SHE CAN'T DESCRIBE IT.

"Oh, he did a hundred and one little things I can't describe," she replied. "All the little things a man can do for a woman if he was—just nice."

She said he soon became affectionate. Then at a dinner one night, Miss Raymond testified, Williams talked marriage.

"Do you know I am very fond of you, little girl?" she said Williams asked her.

"Do you love me—why?" was the reply.

"You seem quiet and gentle. Would you marry an actor?" she said Williams answered.

"Yes," Miss Raymond testified she told Williams, "if I loved him enough."

Before the evening was over, however, Miss Raymond said, Williams told her he couldn't marry her then because he was only making $88 a week and that was not enough.

COURT CALLS
WIFE ACCUSED
BY ARMY MAN

Mrs. Irma E. Philbrook of San Jose has been ordered to appear in court in San Francisco today to give her side of the charges made by her husband, Captain Frank L. Philbrook, U. S. A., in his suit for divorce before Judge Mogan.

A deposition by Captain Philbrook, who is now in service on the Atlantic coast, was filed yesterday. In it he charges that the final break with his wife came after she visited him, for the first time in months, at the Chancellor hotel in San Francisco, and on her departure he found $10 missing from his trousers' pocket.

He called this "crude work." The husband also alleges that his wife seemed to be infatuated with a British army officer and later told him that she did it to give him the "cold test."

Mrs. Philbrook is the daughter of Mrs. P. C. Copeland of San Jose.

Honeymoon Delay Is Cut Short by Police

After two auto thieves had complicated his arrangements for an auto trip and a honeymoon and after the police had been called in and located the missing auto, E. M. Vail of 2242 Seventh avenue is now on his way to Seattle to a wedding, and a honeymoon.

The first aid to Cupid in this case was "Bill" Smith, inspector of the Oakland police department. Vail, who is to wed Miss Helen Harrington in Seattle, was to have started for the north yesterday. He reported to the police that his machine and a carrying outfit on it were stolen. Smith located the missing property, placing Byron Shell, a sailor, and Clarence Wimbles, a soldier, under arrest. Today the delayed trip started.
